FOURTH VIOLENT DEATH A MYSTERY AT CITY ASYLUM

Coroner's Verdict Is That Frank Falk, Latest Victim, Died of Inflammation of the Chest Which Started Over Point Where Rib Was Fractured.

BEATING OF ANOTHER PATIENT IS CHARGED

Attendants Deny That They Had Punished Falk or That They Knew of His Falling —Violent Tendencies Had Vanished.

The manner in which one of Frank Falk's ribs was broken in the City Sanitarium, causing his death, which is the fourth recent one from violence at the institution, remained a mystery after the Coroner's inquest Thursday. The verdict was that Falk, who was 28 years old, died from empyemia, an inflammation of the chest, and that the fracture of the second rib, directly over the point where the inflammation originated, was a contributing cause.

At the same time, complaint was made by relatives of Joseph Koons, a Sanitarium patient, that he was beaten, and his face severely bruised, and that he has said the injury was inflicted by attendants. The two cases follow a number of others in which Sanitarium patients have been mysteriously injured. In at least three of these previous cases, the injuries resulted in death.

Officials Cannot Explain.

Dr. G. A. Johns, superintendent of the Sanitarium, testified at the inquest in the Falk case that he had made a thorough inquiry, and that Hospital Commissioner Shutt, to whom he reported the case Tuesday, had also investigated, but that nothing could be learned to show how Falk's ribs were broken.

Falk, he said, was under the hallucination that he was a great prize fighter and a trainer of champions, although in fact he was a man of ordinary strength and physique. He had a habit of climbing up on the windows and thrusting his arms and legs through the iron grating, and Dr. Johns said he might have fallen and broken the ribs while exercising in this manner, though no one seemed to know of such a fall.

Falk had been at the hospital for two months and a half, suffering from paresis. He was active at first, but grew rapidly worse of late, and Monday he was transferred from the paresis ward to the hospital division. Dr. A. S. Heithaus, who examined him there, first discovered the fracture of a rib, and was inclined to believe that two other ribs were broken, but the post-mortem examination showed only one fracture.

Fracture a Recent One.

Dr. Heithaus suggested that the injury might have been inflicted before Falk reached the hospital—possibly in the city hospital observation ward, where he was a patient for nine days. Dr. Johns said that, in his opinion, the injury was inflicted at the sanitarium, and Dr. Meinhardt, post-mortem physician, also said the fracture was a recent one.

Dr. James Lewald, in charge of the paresis ward, testified that he knew of no occurrence from which the man's injury might have resulted, and that none of the attendants or fellow-patients, under the closest questioning, had said anything which might help to explain the mystery.

Dr. Meinhardt said there had been an abscess in the chest before the rib was broken, and suggested that the patient, suffering pain from the abscess, might have thumped himself on the chest so violently as to break the rib, but he said this was a possible, rather than a likely, explanation.

Says Falk Told of Being Struck.

J. L. Peterson, Falk's brother-in-law, told a Post-Dispatch reporter that he called on Falk in the city hospital about Aug. 3, and noticing that one of his lips was bruised, asked him how he was hurt. He said Falk told him he had been struck by a guard.

A few days after Falk was taken to the sanitarium, Peterson said, he visited him there, and asked him how he was being treated. The reply was that all the attendants were kind with the exception of one man whose first name was Walter, and who came from Quincy, Ill. He was rough with all the patients, Falk said.

Falk lived with his parents at 2729 Caroline street up to the time when he was taken to the city hospital observation ward, July 31. He was admitted to the sanitarium Aug. 9.

Violence Soon Ended.

For a time he was inclined to be violent, and it once was necessary, the Superintendent said, to put him in a strait jacket. Since he suffered partial paralysis, there had been little difficulty in dealing with him.

Falk died Wednesday morning, and his father, John P. Falk, receiving notice of the death, informed his next door neighbor, Patrolman Joseph McKenna, saying he had learned that three of the young man's ribs had been broken.

Falk said he had first heard of his son's illness Monday night, and that

"They think he was insane."

"What are the names of those three?"

"Morgan, Rockefeller and Perkins."

"Enter a non-suit and impanel a new jury."

7 POLICEMEN WEARING MEDALS THEY DIDN'T WIN

Awards Pinned on "Also Rans" in Darkness and Real Victors Soon Complain.

Seven policemen are carrying gold medals for athletic honors they did not win. Thursday a general order was issued from headquarters that those who received the medals should return them to their Captains at once. It all happened in the darkness and the responsibility for the error has not been placed.

The field day program participated in by policemen at Sportsman's Park Saturday was longer than expected and darkness had settled when the athletes were lined up to receive their medals.

In the rush to get through seven medals were pinned on men who had finished in the events as "also rans." The mistake was not discovered until men who actually had won the medals complained they had not received their awards.

JUDGE RULES FLIES HERE ARE OFFICIALLY DEAD

Kimmel Dismisses Suits Against Fruit Venders Brought Under Screen Law.

Judge Kimmel of the Clark Avenue Police Court has ruled that flies are officially dead in St. Louis. For that reason he dismissed four cases against fruit venders charged with violating the screen law.

City Attorney Garesche caught a fly in his office Thursday. He is keeping it as exhibit A and says he will take it into the Court of Criminal Correction as evidence when he appeals from Judge Kimmel's decision.

Health Commissioner Starkloff has asked Garesche to continue to prosecute cases under the screen law despite Judge Kimmel's ruling. The law requires the use of screens until Oct. 31.

LA CROSSE, Wis., Oct. 24.—Ernest Revels, a young farmer, today killed his dog and himself. The two had been inseparable and when Revels tired of life he called his dog to him, fondled him tenderly and shot him, after which he turned his shotgun upon himself.

When friends of Revels, aroused by the shot, arrived, they found the dying dog licking the hand of his master, who survived him only a few minutes.

STEVENSON FREED; WIFE REFUSES TO PROSECUTE HIM

Rich Woman Declines to Testify Against Man Alleged to Have Taken Her $8000.

CARESSES HIM IN COURT

Auto Bandits' Chauffeur, Out on Bond, Will Appear in O'Meara Robbery Case Oct. 28.

Mrs. Nellie Philpot Stevenson formally declined to testify against her husband, Ray E. Stevenson, when he was put on trial in Judge Withrow's court Thursday on a charge of embezzling $8000 from her. Stevenson was the chauffeur for the automobile bandits who recently held up Thomas J. O'Meara, a saloon keeper, and robbed him of $3000.

A jury had been selected and Stevenson took his place near his attorney, Jeptha D. Howe. Assistant Circuit Attorney Griffin asked Mrs. Stevenson to take the witness stand and she did so.

"Tell the jury the circumstances of how you were defrauded out of something like $10,000," Griffin said to her.

Wife Declines to Testify.

"I decline to testify against my husband," she replied.

"Tell the jury whether you were robbed of such a sum or whether you lost it."

"I decline to testify against my husband."

Griffin appealed to the Court. The Judge answered that he had no power to compel her to testify. He then ordered the jury to return a verdict of not guilty. Stevenson and his wife left the courtroom arm in arm.

Laughing, chatting and exhibiting every evidence of fondness for each other, the Stevensons had sat among the spectators while the preliminaries were disposed of. Mrs. Stevenson, wearing a tight-fitting purple suit and a black velvet sailor hat with black willow plumes, sat with one arm thrown across her husband's shoulder.

Stevenson was fashionably dressed and showed no ill effects of his 10-day detention, which ended Wednesday night, when he was released on a $4000 bond.

Stevenson's attorney, Jeptha D. Howe, declared when the case was called that his client was ready for trial and had been at each of the four other callings. The case was continued once by the Court and three times at the request of the State.

Griffin then announced that Mrs. Stevenson had refused to prosecute her husband, but that he was unwilling to dismiss the charge on that account. He asked the privilege of selecting a jury and letting Mrs. Stevenson at least testify to the fact that she did not want to prosecute. The request was granted and the selection of a jury was begun.

The Stevensons were married a few months ago after a very brief courtship, conducted principally while Mrs. Stevenson, then Nellie Philpot, rode in a livery automobile operated by Stevenson. The bride paid an East St. Louis justice of the peace $100 for performing the marriage ceremony, and gave each of the witnesses $25. Before the honeymoon was over she had Stevenson locked up at Hot Springs, Ark., on a charge of misusing her funds.

Later, in St. Louis, she repeated her charges, and began legal action to recover property she said her husband had disposed of illegally. The differences, however, were dropped at last, so far as the public could judge.

Robbery Hearing Oct. 28.

Stevenson's preliminary hearing on the robbery charge is set for Oct. 28. He has confessed, the police say, that he drove the automobile used by the robbers who took in broad daylight $3000 in cash from O'Meara, near Twenty-first and Randolph streets, two weeks ago. The robbers escaped but the police got the number of the automobile license and found it had been issued to Stevenson. While a search for Stevenson was being made on both sides of the river, he walked into the St. Louis police headquarters and surrendered.

ROOSEVELT FEELS BULLY; DONS HIS KHAKI RIDING SUIT

OYSTER BAY, Oct. 24.—Col. Roosevelt gained strength so rapidly that it was expected today he would soon be permitted to resume the work of his campaign.

Dr. Scurry Terrell, who is staying at the home of W. Emlen Roosevelt near Sagamore Hill, visited the Colonel and found him in excellent condition after a long night's sleep. The patient arose soon after he had had breakfast and, dressed in a lounging robe, walked about the house more freely than at any time since his return.

He felt no pain, although whenever he raised his right arm or breathed deeply he was reminded of his injury by the pain. It probably will be several weeks before he will have full use of his right arm.

After Dr. Terrell left the Colonel dressed himself in a khaki riding suit, his favorite costume when he is at home.

"I feel fine," he announced. "I feel bully. I want some lunch," and for the first time since his return he joined the family circle at the dining table.

WATCHED WIFE OF DOCTOR AND MAN THROUGH MIRROR

Witness in Schwer Case Says Woman Changed Toilette With Every Drink.

WIFE DENIES HIS STORY

Admits the Mirror Was There, but Says She Wasn't on Night Named by Roomer.

How Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Norden, roomers in the home of Dr. Otto Schwer, then at 3400 Pine street, watched through a mirror the doctor's wife in another room doing an imitation, in the presence of a man, of Anna Held changing an old toilette for a new one in one of her drinking songs, was part of the testimony given Wednesday in Judge Hitchcock's Court, where the suit of Dr. Schwer to divorce his wife, Elizabeth, is being tried.

Norden said that he and his wife occupied a room in an ell of the house, that was at right angles and on the same level with another room. The mirror in the other room was placed so that by means of it they could look directly into it though they could see only a small part of the room itself.

Had Not Seen Man Before.

The evening of Sept. 14, 1911, he said, while he and his wife were sitting in their room they were made aware of some person or persons entering the other room when the light was turned on. Looking into the mirror, he says, they saw it was the doctor's wife and a man whom they had not seen before about the house.

He was a short, stout man, Norden said, and as he went into the room kept one hand stuffed into an inside coat pocket. The mirror also showed, according to Norden, that Mrs. Schwer was carrying two small cups, which she put on a table. Then the man withdrew his hand from his pocket and placed a bottle alongside the cups. Norden said it looked like a bottle of whisky.

Norden said the mirror showed Mrs. Schwer and the man drinking out of their cups. At the first quaff, Norden said, Mrs. Schwer's spirits bubbled up into laughter and she seemed to want more freedom for breathing, as she loosened her gown at the neck.

As Norden remembered it Mrs. Schwer and the man each drank from their cups four times. After each drink, Norden said, the mirror showed the physician's wife making a change in her toilette. Norden said he never had seen the man again and did not know whether he would be able to recognize him if he did see him.

Wife Denies Being There.

Mrs Schwer denied absolutely that she had been in the room named on the night in question.

"Well, there's a mirror in the room, isn't there? she was asked on cross-examination.

"Yes," she answered.

"And a cluster of gas lights hanging in the center of the room?"

"Yes."

"And when the lights are turned on the mirror would show the furniture to persons in the room in which Mr. and Mrs. Norden were?"

"I do not know that it would," Mrs. Schwer replied heatedly. "I change the furniture about in the rooms every time I clean house and I clean house every two or three days. I do not know what position the mirror was in the night of Sept. 14 and I do not know whether it would show anything in the other room anyhow."

Dr. Schwer previously testified his wife was jealous of him, accused him of making love to his patients, and wanted him to give up all his women patients because she thought he was planning to leave her for a younger woman. He said she had caused scenes in his office at Vandeventer avenue and Olive street, and on the street when she found him talking to women patients.

Says He Wanted Her to Die.

Mrs. Schwer said she had good cause for her jealousy, that the doctor admitted that he was going to leave her for a younger woman. She admitted she had told a nurse at the Centenary Hospital that the doctor had sent her there to be operated on in the hope that she would die and that he told her he was "disgusted, very disgusted," when she came out of the operation successfully.

"I didn't want to be operated on," Mrs. Schwer testified, "but Dr. Schwer insisted.

"You've got to be operated on: you'll never be all right until you get the knife,' he told me.

"While I was still at the hospital he told me about the other woman he was going to get, and he said he wasn't going to wait until I died, either. He promised me if I would let him get a divorce he would pay me $1 a day for the rest of my life."

Caused Scene on Street.

One of Dr. Schwer's charges against his wife is that she created a scene at Sixth and Olive streets when she saw him with two women patients. Mrs. Schwer testified she did not object to the women being with her husband, but she did object to their "hooking" their arms into his. She ordered the women to step along, and she took charge of the doctor.

Mrs. Schwer now lives at 365 North Ewing avenue.

DOCTOR SEEKING DIVORCE AND WIFE ACCUSED BY A ROOMER

MYSTERY IN AN AUTO WRECK AT DEAD MAN'S CURVE

Touring Car Found There Bears State License Tag 7567, Issued to D. JI Tuohy.

A big, 1912 model touring car, bearing Missouri license tag No. 7567, lay wrecked by collision and fire, Thursday at "Dead Man's Curve" on the North and South road, a mile south of Clayton, in the identical spot where Miss Margaret Weber of Maplewood, was fatally injured in an automobile accident 10 days ago.

The records show that license No. 7567 was issued to Dennis J. Tuohy of 5710 Cote Brilliante avenue, who conducts two saloons in the downtown district.

The automobile struck a telephone and light cable pole, breaking it squarely off six inches from the ground, tearing down wires for a distance of 200 feet and putting both lights and telephone out of commission at the home of William Tegethoff, a few yards south of the accident.

The Tegethoffs told a Post-Dispatch reporter they heard a great crash at 10:30 p. m., Wednesday, and later saw the automobile burning, but that nobody came to the house for aid.

Two hundred yards north of the wreck is Pedroll's Inn, a roadhouse. Joseph Pedroll, the proprietor, said the crash was heard at the inn but nobody asked there for help.

NEGOTIATIONS TO SELL SOUTHERN HOTEL ARE CLOSED

W. H. Allen of Allen Estate, Owner of Property, Admits Deal Is Made.

Negotiations which have been pending for several weeks for the leasing of the Southern Hotel building were brought to a conclusion Thursday except for agreements as to a few details of the lease. The building will be used for business purposes by a corporation yet to be formed and the names of the persons promoting the corporation have been kept secret.

One report Thursday was that the building would be converted into a warehouse, but other information indicated that it would be made into an office building.

William H. Allen, representing the Allen estate, which owns the property, admitted to a Post-Dispatch reporter that the deal was closed except for the actual signing of the lease.

"I feel certain there will be no hitch in the matter," Allen said, "but I do not feel like discussing it until it is finally closed. The lawyers are now preparing the necessary papers and all that remains to be done is to agree on some minor details. The general terms of the lease are settled. I do not believe it has been definitely decided whether the property will be used for warehouse or office purposes.

"A corporation will be formed to handle it and as that is not now organized the names of those interested are being kept secret."

Officers of the Mercantile Trust Co., which handled the deal, refused to discuss it, stating that at this stage of the negotiations no information could be made public.

$50,000 IN CASH FOUND IN A "POOR MAN'S" HOME

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., Oct. 24.—An examination today of the home of Benjamin Birkle, who died yesterday at Hoopeston, at the age of 70, supposedly a poor man, revealed $50,000 in currency secreted in out-of-the-way places. A deed showing that he owned 1000 acres of valuable farm land in Vermillion and Iroquois counties was also discovered.

Birkle lived with his sister and three children. He had never confided to them that he was a man of wealth. After the funeral relatives cleaning the house discovered money hidden behind a clock, in the mattress, in old shoes and other places.

It is estimated that the value of his estate is $250,000. A will made a month ago bequeathes all the money and property to his sister.

BECKER'S LIFE IN HANDS OF JURY IN ROSENTHAL CASE

Court Three Hours in Giving Instructions as to Verdict on Murder of Gambler.

SCHEPPS' STATUS IN THE TRIAL PUZZLE TO JUDGE

Twelve Men Told to Decide Whether He Was Corroborating Witness or Accomplice—No First-Degree Verdict on Story of Rose, Webber and Vallon.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—The case of Charles Becker, the Police Lieutenant charged with instigating the murder of Gambler Herman Rosenthal, is in the hands of the jury. Justice Goff, who presided over his trial, finished his charge to the jury late this afternoon.

Justice Goff charged the jury in a speech lasting more than three hours, ruling in substance that the conviction or acquittal of the Police Lieutenant for the murder of Herman Rosenthal rested almost solely on the question of whether Sam Schepps was or was not an accomplice. He was in doubt himself on this point, he said, and therefore declined to instruct the jury.

He ruled that Rose, Webber and Vallon were accomplices and that upon their testimony Becker could not be convicted of murder in the first degree, even though the evidence showed that he had instigated the murder.

Justice Goff narrated in detail Becker's movements on the night of the murder as testified to by witnesses.

"I instruct you," said the Justice, in concluding his reading, "that the events referred to in this recital of the State's case do not exclude from your consideration any other events which come within the scope of the evidence.

"It is not plain why the gun men killed Rosenthal at Becker's command."

Justice Goff then read the statute governing the testimony of accomplices and told the jury that every person who aided, abetted or participated in any way must be considered an accomplice.

"There is a question that Schepps was Becker's accomplice," he continued. "I am in doubt on this point myself and therefore I decline to instruct you that he was an accomplice, a coconspirator, with Rose, Vallon and Webber.

"You cannot convict on the testimony of accomplices, and one accomplice cannot corroborate another. The point you must determine yourselves is whether Schepps' testimony shall be considered as that of a corroborating witness or an accomplice.

Intent of the Law.

"It is the intent of the law that testimony of accomplices shall be carefully considered and weighed by the jury. There is, therefore, no inhibition upon you from considering as true the testimony of Rose and Vallon and Webber.

"As to Rose, you can ask yourselves: 'Is it within the limit of probability that he could concoct this scheme of sending Becker to the electric chair?' You may consider whether it is within his mentality to devise this conspiracy, unaided, to save his own life.

"If his story impressed you as a concoction, the case of the State will have to fall, and you will have to acquit the defendant.

"It has been contended that Rosenthal was unpopular and that other gamblers killed him; that they are now seeking to rid themselves of Becker. I instruct you that that situation would not excuse the defendant if he made use of it for his own purposes. If he intended that murder he becomes the principal in the act and if the men he caused to commit murder were also impelled by other causes to their deed the defendant is nevertheless as guilty as if his directions were the only cause of the gun men's act."

McIntyre, in entering his exceptions to the charges, asked the Court to "instruct against a compromise verdict."

The Court granted his request, and told the jury not to return a verdict of manslaughter.

Warning to the Jury.

Before Becker's case was delivered to the jury, McIntyre explained the Court's refusal to charge "on his request that Sam Schepps be designated as an accomplice."

Upon McIntyre's motion, Justice Goff, however, added a final word of warning to the jury, that it must be individually convinced of the defendant's guilt or acquit him.

"But you must not confuse doubt with stubbornness," the Court said: "The two are widely different."

McIntyre excepted to the Court's including in its charge a "brief skeleton of the State's case."

Becker sat unmoved while the charge was being delivered.

Justice Goff spoke almost [illegible] paper and the jurors leaned forward in their seats to hear him. Becker strained forward as if to catch every word.

"The killing of a human being," he said, "can be considered as murder, manslaughter and excusable homicide. There can be no verdict in this case of excusable homicide, and I will not consider that phase."

Murder in the first degree, the Justice explained, is done with intent and deliberate design to kill, and in the second degree without premeditation.

"First," said Justice Goff, "in the latter part of June Becker told Webber he wanted Rosenthal killed; secondly, he followed this with instructions to Rose to have Rosenthal killed; thirdly, Rose, following out these instructions, carried out the designs of the defendant. That sums up the State's case. If you find that it has been proven beyond 'reasonable doubt' you must return a verdict of murder in the first degree.

"If you find Becker had time to reconsider his design, but did not reconsider, that shows design on his part."

No Manslaughter Instruction.

Justice Goff asked McIntyre if he should define manslaughter to the jury.

"We make no such request," Becker's lawyer replied, and the court omitted the definition.

"It matters not," the Justice resumed, "whether the hand that killed Rosenthal was the hand of Becker or not. If you find that Becker gave instructions to Rose that resulted in Rosenthal's death, then Becker is guilty of murder in the first degree.

"There is no question that Rose, Webber and Vallon were accomplices," Justice Goff continued.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.

UNDER Justice Goff's charge to the jury in the Becker case three verdicts are possible: Guilty of murder in the first degree, carrying the death penalty; guilty of murder in the second degree, carrying imprisonment for from twenty years to life, and not guilty, carrying freedom.

If the jury ignores the charge, it may bring in a verdict of manslaughter in the first degree, carrying a maximum of 20 years' imprisonment or a suspended sentence; manslaughter in the second degree, maximum of 15 years or a fine of $1000, or both, and a minimum of suspended sentence; assault in the first degree, not to exceed 10 years' imprisonment. If the jury should return any of these latter verdicts, the Court may set it aside and a new trial ordered.

BRAZILIAN TELLS OF GOOD MARKETS FOR ST. LOUIS

Count de Almeida Says This City Is Overlooking Attractive Opportunities.

URGES CLOSER RELATIONS

St. Louis Regarded as Nearest Great American City; Has Advantage of Others.

Count Candido Mendes de Almeida of Brazil in an address before the City Club at noon Thursday declared that St. Louis is the logical American market for Brazilian trade. He added that American manufacturers, those in St. Louis as well as elsewhere, had overlooked a profitable business field in neglecting to strengthen their trade relations with his country.

Guest of B. M. L.

De Almeida, who, with other Brazilians, is making a commercial tour of this country, is in the city as the guest of the Business Men's League. He is a man of commanding appearance, tall, alert looking, and he speaks excellent English. He is an editor and a professor in the university at Rio de Janeiro.

"The people of Brazil," he said, "really prefer the manufactures of St. Louis and the United States, but the American manufacturers have not made the efforts they should to get that trade. In two years there are only about four steamships carrying their products directly from the United States to Brazil and these are mostly owned in Europe.

"On the other hand, steamers are constantly plying between European ports and those of our country.

Nearest American City.

"St. Louis is considered by our people the nearest important American city. This has come about since the World's Fair here. Our government had a building at the fair which is now preserved in Rio de Janeiro.

"It is absolutely necessary for your manufacturers to get into direct communication with us to get our business. The United States is the greatest consumer of the products of Brazil, particularly coffee. The friendliness of our people towards the United States and particularly St. Louis was cemented by the recent visit of St. Louis business men to our country."

Paul Brown, a morning newspaper editor, presided. William Schotten told of a visit to Brazil. He said that most of the immigration into that country is from Spain, Portugal and Germany and that while those immigrants preferred goods made in their native lands, the most of the Brazilian people prefer American-made goods and especially American-made shoes.

Tariff Stands in Way.

"One thing that stands in our way is the high Brazilian tariff," he said. "On this account things considered cheap here are considered luxuries there. A can of corn worth 25 cents here, because of the tariffs, sells for $1 there. But I think that if the American people were to make an effort the Brazilian Government could be induced to lower these rates."

David R. Francis piloted the De Almeida party from the City Club to the World's Fair site to show where the Brazilian building stood.

KIMMEL CLAIMANT IS GONE AGAIN FROM TRIAL

He Fails to Appear for Further Cross-Examination—Mrs. Harry Fox Witness.

The Kimmel claimant again was missing Thursday when the suit to recover from the New York Life Insurance Co. $25,000 insurance on the life of George A. Kimmel was called in Judge Grimm's court.

Attorneys for the insurance company said they did not know where the claimant was. He had been on the stand Wednesday afternoon and his cross-examination had not been completed.

Judge Grimm issued an attachment for the claimant under the name George A. Kimmel and ordered the Sheriff to bring him into court.

Mrs. Harry Fox of Niles, Mich., a cousin of George Kimmel, testified as to the claimant's visit to Niles after his release from the Auburn penitentiary. She said he recognized many old acquaintances there. Her testimony was the same as at previous trials.

JUDGE HOLDS DREAM TALK INCOMPETENT EVIDENCE

Husband, Contesting Maintenance Suit, Alleged Wife Called "Max" in Sleep.

Judge Hitchcock, in the Circuit Court Thursday afternoon, refused to listen to testimony as to what Mrs. Emilie Hoffman, of 3741 Marine avenue, said when she was dreaming.

Mrs. Hoffmann is suing her husband, Gottlob Hoffmann, for separate maintenance. He is contesting the suit and alleges that his wife talked in her sleep about a man named Max.

"Did you speak of this man, Max, in your sleep," asked the husband's attorney.

"That question is ruled out as irrelevant and incompetent," said the Judge.

"Well, I don't know anybody named Max, anyway," said Mrs. Hoffmann.

when he visited him Tuesday he was told of the fractured ribs, but was unable to learn how the injuries were inflicted. McKenna's report to his superior officers started the police investigation.

Patient's Mother Complains.

The injury inflicted a few days ago on Joseph Koons at the sanitarium was the subject of complaint at the Mayor's office by the patient's mother. She told a Post-Dispatch reporter that Koons' injuries were inflicted last Friday, and that when she called on him Sunday, one eye was badly discolored.

She said he told her that while he was taking a bath someone took some pencils out of his vest pocket. When he demanded the return of the pencils, he said, he was attacked.

Dr. Johns, when asked about this matter, said he had investigated the case, and had found no evidence that anyone struck Koons. He said Koons was subject to epileptic attacks, and that the discoloration of his eye might have resulted from a fall during one of these attacks. Koons, he said, was not seriously injured.

The recent grand jury, in its report, praised the management of the sanitarium, saying it was as near perfection as such an institution could be.

WATER DOCTOR, FINED $50, TO SEEK NEW TRIAL

Miss Susan L. Davis Convicted of Holding Herself Out as a Physician.

Miss Susan Lawrence Davis was convicted late Wednesday afternoon of the charge of holding herself out as a physician, in the water-cure treatment, which she undertook to administer to Mrs. Paul Bakewell Jr.

A $200 bond was given by Miss Davis to stay the execution of the sentence, and a motion for a new trial was filed by her lawyer, C. Orrick Bishop, who will argue it Nov. 9 before Judge Falkenhainer.

The outcome of the Davis case was a victory for the Health Department, which has been making a campaign against unlicensed healers of various kinds. In a number of cases, detectives have been employed to take the treatments, and this was once done in the case of Miss Davis. The department failed to convict her in that case.

Rodney Peters, responding to the ring, found the box contained a gold watch, chain and medal which, he says, were stolen from him Monday night while he was in the Princess poolroom at 3548 Olive street.

DIAZ MEN DIDN'T FIGHT, THINKING FOE WAS FRIENDLY

Leader Had Told His Vera Cruz Rebels Madero's Troops Would Join Cause.

DIAZ IS TO BE EXECUTED

One in Every 10 Soldiers Also Will Suffer Death Penalty—Men Drawing Lots.

By Associated Press.

VERA CRUZ, Mexico, Oct. 24.—The city rapidly is regaining its normal aspect. The police service was resumed today and within two days the railroad will be operating again on a regular schedule. The telegraph wires also have been repaired between here and Mexico City.

Further details of the taking of the city by the Federal troops show that they marched in, headed by Gen. Joaquin Beltran and his staff, and Cols. Figueroa, Vegal, Zozaya and Tapia. The entire Government force numbered less than 2000 men.

Colonel Kills Two Leaders.

Col. Jiminez Castro of the Federal army, while marching at the head of his column, met a force of rebel volunteers, led by Eduardo Cuesta, the chief of police, and Enrique Delgado, the military judge. The volunteers fired, and wounded Col. Castro, who fired back, and killed both of the leaders.

Two hours after the city had fallen into the hands of Federal troops, Col. Tapia, with a small body of men, encountered a rebel outpost, which had been stationed in a southern suburb. He engaged and defeated them.

Meantime Col. Diaz Ordaz and most of the other rebel officers, had escaped. Only nine of them were captured with Felix Diaz among them, being Major Zarate and Capt. Mayen.

Gen. Diaz, had told his men that the Federal troops advancing on Vera Cruz were coming to enlist under his flag of insurrection. Therefore, when Madero's soldiers appeared, the rebels gave way as they would to friends. They made no resistance and the fall of the city before the loyal force was brought about so easily that it could be looked upon as a farce but for the tragedy that, it is believed, awaits the fate of the leader.

Americans Win Praise.

There is much hearty public recognition of the services given by the United States consul and the captain of the United States cruiser Des Moines in protecting foreigners and Lieut. Burn's and Surgeon Cohen were sent ashore from the Des Moines to care for the wounded.

During the fighting the Mexican gunboat Morelos fired two shots, the explosion of which caused a body of rebels to vacate a church.

Diaz and Chiefs Who Aided Him Will Be Executed.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 24.—Gen. Felix Diaz, Col. Jose Diaz Ordaz and all the officers of the rebellious troops and marines, will be haled immediately before a courtmartial and doubtless will suffer the death penalty. Orders have been issued for the convening of the court, which will be presided over by Gen. Beltran.

Gen. Diaz, although not now a member of the army, is amenable in such court under the law which provides for such trial of any civilian under like circumstances.

The soldiers of the rebellious troops will be decimated—one in ten executed. They will be chosen by lot to pay the penalty for all. This information was imparted officially.

Fall of Diaz Leaves Three Rebellious Movements in Mexico.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—The downfall of the Diaz movement leaves three rebellions in Mexico headed by Zapata, Aguilar and Orozco. It is presumed that the Government forces employed against Diaz will be concentrated upon Aguilar, who is likely to be driven back into the mountains; that the pursuit of the small bands into which Orozco's force has broken up will be resumed, and that the only really serious undertaking confronting the Federal army will be in connection with the Zapata rebellion.

The Navy Department is pleased with the manner in which Capt. Hughes of the Des Moines has handled the situation at Vera Cruz. He will be relieved shortly by Commander Long, who is about to leave Washington for Vera Cruz for that purpose.

Part of Orozco's 15 Men Aimed to Co-Operate With Diaz Forces.

MONTEREY, Mex., Oct. 24.—As indicating that Pascual Orozco, a Mexican rebel chieftain, aimed to send at least a part of his command to Tampico, a band of insurrectos appeared at a ranch near Juan Felipe and declared they were headed for the Gulf Coast. They said they were part of Orozco's command. They demanded horses, got 20, and gave receipts for them, promising to pay for the animals at "the triumph of the revolution." It is presumed the command wanted to cooperate with the Diaz forces captured yesterday at Vera Cruz.

SIDENER EXPLAINS WHY AN INDICTED DEMOCRAT GOT OFF

Prosecuting Attorney Freed Kennedy, Committeeman, Because of Lack of Evidence.

Prosecuting Attorney Howard Sidener, Republican candidate for Circuit Attorney, discussed with a Post-Dispatch reporter Thursday the case of John J. Kennedy, Democratic committeeman from the Eighth Ward, who was arbitrarily freed by Sidener after the grand jury had returned an indictment charging Kennedy with selling liquor without a license in a lid club at 1431 St. Ange avenue. The Kennedy case was cited by Sidener's Democratic opponent, former Judge Thomas B. Harvey, as a reason for Kennedy's friendliness to Sidener's candidacy.

"Judge Harvey is making a mountain out of a mole hill," declared Sidener. "The facts in this case do not justify any criticism of my office nor do they prove that Kennedy, a Democrat, is working for my election to the Circuit Attorneyship.

"Some time in January last, about the 14th, Policemen Voyce and Ledyard, arrested Kennedy and Claude Hoff on a charge of selling liquor without a license and I issued warrants for them. When the case called to trial Hoff pleaded guilty. The evidence gathered by the officers showed that Hoff as bartender at the club sold drinks to the policemen, who were in plain clothes, and that he turned the money over to Kennedy, who was standing at the bar. It was apparent to me there was no testimony conclusive of Kennedy's guilt and I accordingly entered a nolle pros.

"Subsequently, the Grand Jury indicted Kennedy on the evidence which the police originally had submitted to me. The case had been continued three or four times before it was called to my attention. When I discovered that it was the same case the officers had brought up before I again nolle prossed it. At the time I didn't know that Kennedy was the committeman from the Eighth ward. I wish to say this, however: Under the same circumstances I would do the same thing over. I have no apologies to make. I felt it was my duty as Prosecuting Attorney to dismiss the case and I did so. That is all there is to it."

Police Captain Schwartz of the Central District said he detailed Policemen Voyce and Ledyard on the case after he had been informed that Kennedy's club was a rendezvous for hoodlums and other undesirable persons. He thought the facts gathered by the officers justified prosecution of the case. Policemen Voyce and Ledyard say they were unable to understand why the Prosecuting Attorney entered a nolle pros, as they regarded the case against Kennedy equally as strong as that against Hoff. They bought drinks at the place twice and on each occasion, they say, Kennedy received the money from the bartender, Hoff, who served them.

While the cases of Kennedy and Hoff were pending, the lid club which they were alleged to have operated suspended business.

SUPREME COURT MAY REACH MILL TAX CASE IN YEAR

Decision Then Depends on Granting of Possible Request to Advance Matter.

RUNS NEARLY EIGHT YEARS

City Officials Won't Try to Answer Question, "When Will Tax Be Collected?"

When is the mill-tax going to be collected?

Why has it not been collected?

These two questions, often asked, have been revived by the recent verdict for more than a million and a half dollars in the city's favor.

City officials have ceased trying to answer the first question. The mill-tax case, in the nearly eight years that it has run, has given such a remarkable demonstration of corporate resistance, and of the law's delay, that no one officially connected with the suit will now venture to set a time when it may be expected to end.

Just now, in a way, the outlook seems good. The city got a judgment in the Circuit Court the other day against the United Railways co. for $1,571,267.66 of, the nearly $2,000,000 due under the mill-tax. The company can appeal from this, as it has appealed from other judgments—but to protect its property from attachment pending the appeal, it must file an appeal bond. That bond must be for twice the amount of the judgment—and a bond for $3,142,535.32 is not easily given, even by a big corporation.

History of Litigation.

But if the company should fail to give the bond, and if the city should obtain an execution and attach the company's possessions up to the amount of the judgment, it would then have a street car line or two on its hands, and it has no power, under the charter, to operate such a line for revenue. Also, if the company should later win its case in the Supreme Court, the city would have to give back all it had taken, with interest.

The second question—"Why has the mill-tax not been collected?"—city officials are willing to answer. The answer contains the history of the long litigation.

At the request of the Post-Dispatch City Councelor Walther outlined to a reporter the successive steps in the legal fight to obtain the money from the company.

The mill tax ordinance went into effect in 1904. It required street car companies—there were then two distinct and competing corporations—to pay to the city one-tenth of a cent, or one mill, for every 5-cent passenger carried. These payments, the ordinance directed, must be made quarterly. Failure or neglect to pay, within 10 days after receiving notice from the city that the money was due, was declared to be a misdemeanor, punishable by a police court fine of $100 to $500. Each day's failure to pay, it was ordained, should constitute a separate offense.

Contract Contention.

Soon after the mill tax law went into effect, a suit to restrain the city from enforcing it was filed in the Federal Court, the companies alleging that the new requirement was an impairment of contract. The companies contended that their franchises were a contract with the city under which they made certain payments for their privileges, and that they could not be required to pay more.

Federal Judges Finkelnburg and Adams here upheld this contention, but the United States Supreme Court in November, 1908, reversed their judgment, holding that the franchises contained no such contract as the traction lawyers sought to read into them.

This decision, which was not affected by some later skirmishing in the Federal courts, left the city free to go ahead and collect the tax by whatever means it could, without interference from the United States courts on any such ground as that which had been considered.

But it did not enable the city to put its hands on the money due.

Two methods lay before Charles W. Bates, then City Counselor. One was to prosecute the companies—or the company, for the rival lines had consolidated late in 1906—in police court and get the money through a mass of fines.

The other possible method was to sue for the amount due, as for a debt. This plan was followed.

Delay by Injunction.

Bates instituted suits at the February term of court in 1909. The United Railways Co. delayed matters somewhat by an injunction proceeding, but later withdrew the injunction petition and filed a demurrer, which was considered by Circuit Judge Homer. He overruled the demurrer Feb. 14, 1910, and the company then began its defense.

City Counselor Walther, who had succeeded to the litigation in the meantime, filed more suits as amounts due for the recurring quarters accrued, and he also demanded that the issues already settled by the Federal Court be left out of the company's defense. He won his motion to strike out a large part of the defense, and Nov. 7, 1911, the first actual trial of a suit for money due the city under the mill tax began in Judge Grimm's Court. March 11, last, Judge Grimm rendered a judgment for the full amount comprised in the suit, amounting, with interest, to $62,828.20.

The company moved for a new trial, and this motion was overruled Oct. 14. The company has until the first Monday in December to file an appeal from this judgment.

Behind on Its Docket.

The second suit, heard by Judge Fisher, is the only one which has thus far reached the State Supreme Court on appeal. Judge Fisher gave a judgment for the city Feb. 5 last, in the sum of $54,967.50, and May 6 he overruled a motion for a new trial. The company appealed, and gave a bond for nearly $114,000.

The State Supreme Court is two years and a half behind its docket. The city may ask to have the mill tax cases advanced, but it is not likely that, even if this request were granted, a decision would come in less than a year from the present time.

The third and largest judgment against the company, already mentioned, was handed down in Judge Shields' Court a week ago. A motion for a new trial has been filed, and it will probably be several months before the question of giving the big bond will confront the company.

"Many persons think that, since the United States Supreme Court has declared in favor of the city, that ought to settle the matter," said Walther. "I only wish it were as easy as that."

ASKS REJECTION OF BANK'S CLAIM AGAINST GLOBE CO.

Attorney for Trustees Wants $22,000 Already Paid to Commerce Bank Returned.

SAYS IT WAS PREFERRED

Bookkeeper for Bankrupt Store Tells of "Kiting" Checks and Fictitious Entries.

Morris G. Levinson, attorney for the trustees of the bankrupt Globe Shoe and Clothing Co., petitioned Referee Coles Thursday to reject the claim of the National Bank of Commerce for $67,128.73 against the Globe. The petition alleges that the bank was a preferred creditor in that it received $23,000 from the Globe in the four months of insolvency prior to the filing of the bankruptcy petition against the store, May 6, 1912.

The petition asks that the bank be forced to turn the $23,000 back to the trustees and then take its chance with other creditors on whatever claim it may care to present.

Throught the testimony of Leo Landau, secretary and manager of the Globe, at the hearing before Referee Coles, it was brought out that immediately after the Globe fire last February, Leo Landau and his father, Maurice Landau, president of the Globe Company, had a conference with B. F. Edwards, president of the National Bank of Commerce, about financial matters.

Store Paid $5000 a Week.

A few days late, Leo Landau testified, he and his father were called by telephone for an immediate conference with Edwards. What took place at the meeting neither of the Landaus would tell, but it was revealed that the Globe, beginning April 1, began paying the bank $5000 a week and kept it up until the bankruptcy petition was filed.

The investigation into the Globe company's financial affairs and methods will be continued Nov. 14, according to present arrangements.

The investigation has gone on with difficulty owing to the refusal of the Landaus and Schwartz to answer certain questions on the ground that they might be incriminated by their replies.

Carried Fictitious Surplus.

The admssion that the company "kited" its checks to keep up its bank balances and carried a paper surplus of $153,110.85 was made by Schwartz after Referee Coles had analyzed the bookkeeper's refusals to answer as a plan to obstruct the hearing, rather than an apprehension of self-incrimination, and had threatened to cite him for contempt unless he replied.

The reluctance of the Landaus to answer is due, Leo Landau told on the stand, to the fear that the present hearing might be made the basis of a criminal prosecution in the Federal Courts.

The information that the company, in one instance, raised eleven check stubs $1000 each, a total of $11,000 more than the amount paid out, was revealed by Attorney Levinson and was confirmed by Schwartz's replies to Levinson's questions.

In relating how the company "kited" its checks to keep up an appearance of financial stability, Schwartz said:

"For instance, I would draw a check for $1000 on the National Bank of Commerce and put it into the Central National Bank, and draw one for $2000 or $3000 on the Central and put it in the Bank of Commerce. I didn't charge it to the cash or the credit.

"Other work kept me away from the books, sometimes as long as a week, and when I found that the cash didn't balance I would take a check from one bank and put it into another and then draw a check on the second bank and put it into the first."

Discrepancies Admitted.

"Then the entries you have made in the cash accounts do not correspond with the actual transactions," said Levinson.

"I refuse to answer," Schwartz replied.

"You will have to answer," said the referee, whereupon Echwartz said, "Yes, sir; that is true."

To a long series of questions following, Schwartz replied, "I don't remember," making that reply, in some cases, after he had refused to answer and had been compelled by the referee to do so.

An item of "city merchandise, $83,243.53," entered in the books May 1, 1912, referred to accounts owed to the Globe, Schwartz said. Another of $188,271.81, in the clothing department on the same date was obtained "probably from the inventory," he testified. After he had been compelled to answer as to when the inventory was made, he said he could not remember.

On being asked where he got the information that the capital stock, appearing on the balance, was $150,000, Schwartz said it probably came from the cashier who preceded him. He could not remember where he got an item of "notes payable, $142,439.40," appearing on the balance of March 1, 1912.

In response to questions from the Referee, Schwartz admitted that unless his trial balances were a direct transcription of his ledger they were incorrect. Under compulsion, Schwartz identified certain writing as that of Miss Loretta Benoist, a bookkeeper. When asked by the Referee why he feared an answer to that question would incriminate him, he replied he didn't know.

Put on Books to "Look Good."

Schwartz could not recollect what became of the difference between a credit balance of $399,970.58 on one ledger and a credit balance of $139,000 entered on another ledger which was a continuation of the first. Later he admitted the true balance was not brought forward, but said he did not know why. Compelled to give a more satisfactory answer, he said he dropped a part of the notes payable to make the liabilities look less.

"An item of "surplus, $153,110.85," entered in the trial balance for Feb. 1, 1912, had been "carried for years," Schwartz said, and was put on the books merely to make the statement look good.

When asked to explain how the balances were made, Schwartz said, "we made the first balance from the first statement and continued through the year." He then was asked where he got the first statement and said he didn't now unless it came 30 years ago, from a former bookkeeper.

Schwartz testified he never talked to either of the Landaus about the financial condition of the company, and that none of the entries were made at the suggestion of either of the Landaus. He said, however, that he always thought the entries all right, because he put them on the desks of the Landaus and never heard any objections to them. That, he said, was the precedent set by the former bookkeeper.

"Do you recall that Leo Landau told you to credit his account with $18,000?" Schwartz was asked.

"I told him it was about time to wipe that off and he said 'Let it go,'" replied Schwartz. "That was for salary. His father had told me Leo Landau was to get $500 a month, but he didn't want it to appear that way on account of his uncles, Sol and Joe Landau." Schwartz testified that neither of the uncles had anything to do with the books.

Schwartz said he did not tell Maurice or Leo Landau after the fire that they were insolvent. He admitted knowing that the notes payable accounts on the ledger were not correct. When asked if he did not know that the company owed $214,000 in bills payable, he said he did not pay any attention. He said, however, that he knew the books did not show the true and actual condition of the company, and when asked why he had not told the Landaus of their condition he replied that the Landaus had made no objection about the books and that he had nothing to conceal from them.

The balance charged to Leo Landau on his account as it stood Jan. 1, 1912, was $10,000, the testimony showed, and on Feb. 1 it was $18,500. When asked what Leo Landau had done to earn the $18,500, Schwartz said it probably was due to the "kiting" of checks.

The bookkeeper said he never prepared a statement of the Globe's financial condition for the financial and commercial agencies with which it did business. He said he received what merchandise he needed, in addition to his salary. The same privilege, he said, was extended to Maurice, Sol and Leo Landau. Schwartz said his first knowledge he had of the firm's insolvency was when the store was closed.

Terrible Cramps, Dizzy Spells, Nervousness, Misery—Her Story of How She Got Well Again.

"Your remedies have relieved me of all my troubles. I would have such pains and cramps and such weak, nervous, dizzy spells that I would have to go to bed. Some days I could hardly stay up long enough to get a meal.

"The doctor's medicine did me no good so I changed to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and got good results from the first bottle. I kept on taking it until I was well again. I think every woman who suffers as I have, could take no better medicine."—Mrs. Charles Mattison, Box 58, Hindsboro, Ill.

"T. R. HEARD PERKINS' VOICE, NOT THE LORD'S"

Bryan Declares It Cost $500,000 to Organize Demand for Roosevelt.

WILMINGTON, Del., Oct. 24.—William Jennings Bryan concluded a tour of Eastern Pennsylvania and Delaware in this city with a rousing meeting that proved the Delaware Democrats to be thoroughly awake and very numerous. He began his day's work at 7 o'clock this morning at Harrisburg, where he addressed 500 persons in the plaza. Thence the Commoner went to Philadelphia. The Academy of Music there was packed, the largest political outflow of the campaign. There was a driving rain, but thousands braved it to hear him.

In Philadelphia he paid his respects to Col. Roosevelt, whom he dubbed as "a man who thought himself another Moses." He charged that it cost $500,000 to organize the demand for Roosevelt.

"Col. Roosevelt has mistaken the steel blast furnace for the flaming sword," continued Mr. Bryan; "and it was the voice of Perkins that was calling him, not the Lord's."

12 MEN IN CALLAHAN FEUD CASE ON TRIAL

Woman Who Gathered Evidence to Avenge Father Brings in Witnesses.

WINCHESTER, Ky., Oct. 24.—Twelve of the 14 men indicted for the murder last March of former Sheriff Ed Callahan of Breathitt County were to go on trial in Winchester today. Mrs. Lillian Gross, Callahan's daughter, to whose work in gathering evidence in the mountains of Breathitt County the indictments are due, arrived here last night with a number of witnesses whom she persuaded to come despite their protests that their lives would be endangered.

Ed Callahan, one of the most picturesque of Breathitt clan leaders, was shot from ambush as he stood in front of his store at Jackson. The indictment charges a conspiracy against the life of Callahan on the part of the Deaton clan and others.

The trial is to take place here because the prosecution declared a fair trial could not be had in Breathitt County.

LEFT A SCHOOLBOY AND RETURNS AS 'COMING COMPOSER'

WORKING ON AN OPERA

Musician's Chief Ambition Is to Compose Distinctively American Score.

Julian B. Freedman, whose departure from St. Louis as a schoolboy five years ago was noted only by his relatives and immediate friends, has returned from the conservatories of Vienna and Salzburg, Austria, a recognized composer and regarded by his fellow musicians as one of the most promising young figures in the new school of music.

He is at the home of his father, the Rev. Samuel Freedman of 3130 Bell avenue, but will return in a few weeks to Salzburg to become director of the symphony orchestra at the Mozarteum. His appointment to that position is an unusual honor for one of his age and is considered a pronounced testimonial to his ability.

Freedman is only 26 years old, but he has successfully attempted nearly every form of musical expression, from simple lyrics to complicated fugues, and his compositions have favorably impressed some of Europe's ablest judges of music. He has published in Austria a series of songs and is now working on a collection of sacred music for a New York publisher. Among his more ambitious efforts is an opera, which is half completed and for which a successful New York literary man is writing the libretto.

Aspires to Write Opera.

To create an opera which shall be truly American in every respect is Freedman's ambition. That ambition, combined with the success he has already attained, caused the European correspondent of an Eastern musical journal to refer to him recently as "the coming American composer."

"We have no great American opera yet," he said to a Post-Dispatch reporter. "Two operas recently hailed as great American works have been comparative failures and the field still is open. What we want is opera in which the music, as well as the story, will depict the life, the thought, the spirit of our country."

Of young Freedman's music a critic wrote: "It is very modern, but is full of melody." From that it might be inferred that most of the "modern music" lacks melody, but St. Louisans who have heard "Salome" and "Pelleas and Melisande" will know otherwise. Those two operas are from the "new school of music," to which Freedman belongs.

WOULD RESUME NAME OF DIVORCED HUSBAND

Woman Declares Restoration of Her Maiden Name Hampers Interests of Her Child.

Mary Jane Stillman of 6200 Ella avenue, Wellston, applied to Circuit Judge McElhinney at Clayton Thursday to have her name changed to Merrifield. She was formerly Mrs. Merrifield, wife of Eugene Merrifield. She obtained a divorce, Feb. 3, 1911, and had her maiden name, Stillman, restored to her.

In her petition she says she did not realize at the time the full effect of the change of name on the interests of her young child. She asks that her name be again changed, to Merrifield, so that her name and that of the child will be the same.

A Lady's Comment on Medicine and Religion

The following letter is from a lady whose name I am not at liberty to use. If I should mention her name she would be known by almost every reader. She writes in part:

Dr. S. B. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio:

"Your article entitled 'Medicine and Religion' has been read and re-read by me many times. It seems to me that the article contains the substance of all that has been said about Christian Science, new thought, suggestive therapeutics and other forms of mental healing.

"I am very much pleased to observe that you are putting out into the world such useful literature. It will do untold good, without doubt; not only for those who take medicine, but for those who try to get along without taking medicine. Your article is terse, to the point, and will be read by thousands.

"Medicine and religion have always been very closely associated. Only in very recent years have the two been regarded as separate professions. I am glad you brought this out so clearly. The tendency of today is strongly in the direction of medicine and religion coming back together again. With your immense facilities for spreading useful information I am sure you will greatly assist the progress of the times in sending out broadcast such articles. I want you to know that your efforts are appreciated.

"As to Peruna, I have nothing to say. I very seldom make use of any medicine. But I assure you that your article has so enthused me with the good advice it contains that if I have any need for medicine I shall certainly buy a bottle of Peruna. I shall not neglect to recommend it to others also."

Pe-ru-na, Man-a-lin and La-cu-pia manufactured by the Pe-ru-na Company, Columbus, Ohio. Sold at all drug stores.

SPECIAL NOTICE:—Many persons inquire for The Old-time Peruna. They want the Peruna that their Fathers and Mothers used to take. The old Peruna is now called Katarno. If your dealer does not keep it for sale write the Katarno Company, Columbus, Ohio, and they will tell you all about it.—ADV.

Tenants will find a larger selection of home vacancies to choose from in Post-Dispatch wants than in any other St. Louis newspaper.

DISCREPANCY OF $20,000 IN STORIES OF BEVERIDGE GIFT

Friends Testify Ex-Senator Sent Back $30,000 Financier Contributed for Him.

PERKINS TOLD OF $10,000

Clapp Committee Expected to Solve Matter—Indiana Man to Be Witness.

By Wire From the Washington Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—A discrepancy of $20,000 exists somewhere in the accounts of Senator Beveridge or George W. Perkins, according to testimony given before the Clapp committee which is investigating expenditures in campaigns.

Perkins has testified that he got back from Beveridge $10,000 which had been sent to the Indiana man for use in his campaign for the Senate. Friends of Senator Beveridge have testified that Perkins sent $30,000 and that $30,000 was returned. Where the remaining $20,000 went probably will be cleared up before the committee adjourns.

After a brief executive session today the Clapp Committee found no witnesses on hand and adjourned until tomorrow when former Senator Albert J. Beveridge of Indiana, is to testify about expenditures of his campaign money in his 1904 State campaign.

Former Speaker H. C. Pettitt of the Indiana House of Representatives also has been summoned to appear tomorrow. It was announced that should Beveridge's campaign engagements interfere with his appearance tomorrow, he probably will testify Saturday.

Besides, $25,000 was received from and returned to Edward L. McLean, cousin of Senator Beveridge, and either $2500 or $3000 was returned to Gifford Pinchot.

Letter by Telephone.

Frank J. Hogan, representing the Progressive party in Washington, gave out a letter which he said had been telephoned from a New York office of Perkins and which purported to be the letter of Senator Beveridge returning the money sent him by Perkins. The letter named no amount. It read as follows:

"Dear old man:

"Herewith I return you untouched the splendid sum you so generously sent me to help in the battle just won. It was noble of you, George—characteristic of your great big, noble heart; and I am grateful and appreciative beyond words to express. I could not use a cent of the magnificent amount you placed at my disposal and so return it to you intact.

"Do not feel offended at this, my cousin sent me a draft for $25,000 and I returned the draft to him just as I am sending the inclosed back to you.

"Your beautiful friendship steadily proved as the years pass, is very sweet and dear to me.

"Give my regards to our mutual friend my love to the folks at home, and believe me always, with tenderest affection, as ever, ALBERT."

Telegrams to Witnesses.

This letter, Hogan said, would be presented to the committee for the record. Perkins, when he was on the stand, was asked to furnish the committee with any correspondence between himself and Senator Beveridge, and he agreed to do so.

While the committee expected to conclude yesterday and no further witnesses were on hand to testify, a meeting will be called today. Senator Pomerene desires to pursue the Beveridge matter further, and telegrams have been sent to several witnesses asking when they can appear. Senator Beveridge has wired he cannot reach Washington before Saturday.

Further action of the committee will depend entirely upon the immediate availability of the witnesses.

PATROLMEN HEARS CLOCK BELL, LOOKS FOR BURGLAR

Arouses Saloon Proprietor and Discovers Cash Register Bell Sounds Differently.

Patrolman Stumpf halted in front of the buffet of Frank Kriege, northeast corner of Ninth street and Franklin avenue, when he heard a tinkle within. Peering over the glazed portion of the window, he looked for the burglar at the cash register, but saw no one. It was 2 a. m., and Stumpf, convinced he had heard the cash register bell, inspected the premises. Every door and window was securely fastened.

Arousing the family upstairs he gained access to the interior, and searched the place. There was no sign of a burglar. But Stumpf telephoned to the proprietor. Kriege arrived from his home in South St. Louis, and was counting his cash when the clock on the wall struck four. Stumpf looked up at the clock. He recalled that it was just 2 a. m. when he heard the "cash register" bell.

"I didn't know your clock had a bell attachment," he said to Kriege as he bought a cigar to square himself.

LIMITS SUBMARINE FEATS

Order Prohibits Boats Diving More Than 1000 Feet.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—Spectacular Navy hereafter, are prohibited as the Navy hereaftter, are prohibited as the result of an order just issued by Secretary of the Navy Meyer. Under no circumstances will any of the little craft be permitted to dive more than 100 fet below the surface, although on the Pacific Coast the boats have descended to the 200-foot level.

The recent catastrophes led Secretary Meyer to issue the order. He proposes that hereafter the little craft shall not exercise at a greater depth than they would be compelled to go under war conditions.

Plain Corset Talks TO WISE WOMEN (No. 10)

Some men judge a cigar by the price they pay—and the pretty red-and-gold band. These men often get 5c. cigars for 15c.

Some women judge a corset by its cost and its flossy frills. These are the women who support the extravagant "made-to-order" shops and those corset-makers who are willing to capitalize woman's vanity and lack of good judgment.

The wise woman buys SERVICE—not show.

That is—the NEMO!

Be a Wise Woman!

Nemo CORSETS AT $4

RELIEF-BANDS SELF-REDUCING

THESE IMPROVED NEMO RELIEF BANDS

—give all the support that many stout figures need. This year the Bands have elastic inside ends of Lastikops Webbing, making them fit more snugly and with greater comfort. Two models:

No. 403—low bust / No. 405—medium } $4.00

Lots of women like these corsets even better than the higher-priced Nemos—it all depends on what kind of a corset your figure requires.

With Limshaping Extensions

Bands of elastic Lastikops Webbing prevent that bulge of fat below the corset-skirt—your gown fits snugly and smoothly:

No. 406—low bust / No. 408—medium } $4.00

For Slender Figures

No. 412—A charming model for slender and medium figures; very long skirt, medium bust; the restful "Hol-tite Straps." Fine white brocade, sizes 18 to 26—$4.00.

Be nice to the dealer who tries to sell you "something just as good" as the Nemo, but—

Be a Wise Woman!

—and consider first YOUR OWN style, health and purse.

JUDGE ASSAILS SUFFRAGETTE AS DANGEROUS CRANK

Tells Woman Who Heckled Gov. Wilson Fanatics Will Be Dealt With Seriously.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—The militant suffragette hereafter will be regarded by the New York City courts as a "dangerous crank," if the ruling of Chief Magistrate Kempner in the case of Miss Maud Malone, who interrupted Gov. Wilson at a Brooklyn meeting, is observed.

The magistrate said:

"But let it be known to women of your violent temperament that we will not tolerate lawless methods and that fanatics of either sex will be dealt with as seriously as possible by our magistrates, while rational propaganda for any proper cause will be as free as the air.

"If such conduct as yours is suffered to go unpunished the number of dangerous cranks will multiply, as also the numbers of mayors, presidents and other public men who will be carrying bullets in their bodies.

"Although you profess to believe you were heroic and helpful to a great cause, in reality you only succeeded in disgracing yourself and injuring that cause. Persons of your type only retard the day of women's enfranchisement, just as the stone throwers and window smashers in England are setting back, instead of advancing, their cause in that country."

YALE PROFESSOR SCORES POLITICAL CLERGYMEN

Declares Protestant Ministers Should Devote More Time to Discussing Gospel.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 24.—William Lyon Phelps, head of the English department of Yale, scored Protestant clergymen in a sharp address today, in which he said if they preached more about the gospel and religion and less about politics they would get along better. In part he said:

"The main difficulty with the church today is that the people in the pews do not have the gospel preached to them. The hungry sheep look up and are not fed.

"The tremendous strength of the Roman Catholic Church lies in its fidelity to principle, in its religious vitality and in its hatred of compromise. It should be an object lesson to all Protestant ministers. They ought to learn that the chief duty of a preacher is to hold forth Christianity and not discourse on sanitation, political economy or literature. People everywhere are eager for the gospel, and always respond to it when it is convincingly set forth by men like Philips Brooks or men like Billy Sunday."

WOMAN WORTH $35,000 STARVES FOR 18 DAYS

Alton Police Break Into House, Provide Food and Seek to Have Her Sanity Tested.

Police broke into the home of Mrs. Johanna F. Bier at Alton Thursday, after she had isolated herself for 18 days, and found her almost starved to death.

Mrs. Bier is 35 years old and is separated from her husband. She lives in a six-room house at 711 Clement place. Thursday some of her neighbors notified the police that Mrs. Bier had not been seen for many days. Policeman Fahrig and Mrs. Sophia Demuth, the police matron found the windows and doors were locked, but Fahrig pried a window open and admitted Mrs. Demuth. They found Mrs. Bier lying on a sofa, greatly emaciated.

Mrs. Bier ordered them out, but they called in neighbors to prepare food for her and sought her husband, to urge him to have her sanity inquired into.

Although Mrs. Bier is said to be worth $35,000, owning several farms at Pana, Ill., there was nothing but a stove, one chair and the sofa in the house.

Jim—He Never Read the Ads Till He Bought a Bread Knife

The other day two men of this city met downtown waiting for the same street car, each with several bundles under his arm.

"Been shopping, Jim?" asked one.

"Yes, a little," replied the man addressed, "I used our bread knife for a screwdriver last night and broke it and had to get another at the ten-cent store for a dime."

"You're extravagant, Jim" said the first man. "I bought a new bread knife today for 3 cents at——"

"Can't be much account," incredulously exclaimed Jim.

"Regular ten-cent knife; same as you bought," replied the first man.

"How did you know you could get 'em for 3 cents at ——?" asked Jim, now somewhat interested.

"I read their ad in the paper.

"Well, I never read ads," said Jim.

It's ten to one that Jim's friend has more money in the bank and more comforts at home than he has.

Jim doesn't spend his money wisely because—

He doesn't read the advertisements.

For every dollar that Jim pays out his friend probably spends but seventy or eighty cents and gets the same or a better purchase for his money.

Maybe Jim is reading this right now and wondering why he has not taken notice of the advertisements.

If Jim is not devoid of the sense of recognizing opportunity when it is pointed out to him he will begin reading the ads today.

He will then see why his friend who got the bread knife for three cents, while he paid ten cents for it, is always getting along so smoothly in the world.

Here is wishing you well, Jim.

PRICE OF SPOONS GOES UP

Knives and Forks Cost More Because of Bullion Advance.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—Owing to increase in the price of silver bullion, manufacturers of sterling silver flat ware have advanced the price of spoons, forks and tableware approximately 10 per cent.

In January last silver bars were quoted in the New York market at 57 cetns per ounce. The price today is slightly above 65 cents an ounce. The reason given for the upward movement is the fact that the Indian Government has come into the market as a heavy buyer.

PARADE PROCLAIMS SOUTH BROADWAY'S WEEK OF BARGAINS

Megaphone Announcers in Decorated Autos Tell of Merchants' Offerings.

THOUSANDS SEE PAGEANT

Close Selling Marks the Unification of the Two Leading Associations.

Nearly everyone in South St. Louis knows that next week is going to be bargain week on South Broadway. They were informed of it by a big automobile parade given Wednesday afternoon by the United South Broadway Merchants. Members of the association, in more than a hundred gaily decorated machines, traversed the principal streets of the South Side, proclaiming the bargains that will be offered and the premiums that will be given all next week in the South Broadway business section.

The parade was partly in celebration of the unification of the French Market Improvement Association and the South Broadway Merchants' Association, which was effected about two weeks ago. The bargain week is to be the first fruit of the consolidation.

In the parade banners were carried by the cars, admonishing South Side residents to trade on South Broadway and informing them of the bargains that will be offered next week. In nearly every automobile a megaphone man shouted the good news as the parade passed.

The parade started from Broadway and Chouteau avenue and first traversed Broadway to Carondelet. Returning by way of Priester's Park, a stop was made for luncheon, during which speeches were delivered, extolling South Broadway. Afterward all the principal South Side thoroughfares were traveled over.

Bands that were carried in auto trucks brought crowds from the adjoining streets and many thousands saw the parade. It was headed by the officers of the association: Charles H. Thuner, president; E. Wacker, vice-president; J. A. Gramlich, secretary, and M. J. Sicher, treasurer, and Solomon Willner, president of the French Market Improvement Association, and A. J. Albrecht, president of the South Broadway Merchants' Association.

$1,000,000 ROBBERY OF BANK REVEALED

Philadelphian to Be Prosecuted If Caught in Spite of Fact Restitution Has Been Made.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 24.—Rumors which have been current in Philadelphia for more than a year that the Union Trust Co. had been robbed of $1,000,000 in securities and $30,000 in currency by an employe, were confirmed to day when Gov. Tener announed that so far as the State is concerned, Walter H. Shourds, who is accused of appropriating the money and securities, must be prosecuted, notwithstanding that restitution has been made.

The securities, it is said, were taken from a safe deposit box, rented by George Burnham Jr., who is connected with a locomotive works in this city. Shourds is a fugitive from justice, having been indicted.

Shourds, who was superintendent of the safe deposits vaults of the trust company, fled shortly before his crime was discovered. It is reported that he opened communication for the return of the securities and the money through "personals" inserted in New York, Philadelphia and Paris newspapers.

ALLIGATOR LOCKED IN A TRUNK 6 MONTHS ALIVE

Indiana Man, Rummaging in Box Sent From Central America, Finds It.

HAMMOND, Ind., Oct. 24.—Frank D. McElroy, president of a manufacturing concern here, while rummaging through a trunk which had been in storage for six months and which had belonged to his brother, came upon a young alligator eight inches long.

The animal was alive and ravenously hungry. McElroy was summoned to Central America last April by a message stating his brother was dying. He arrived there after his death; took possession of his brother's effects and brought them home.

Among them was the trunk which he placed in storage without examining its contents.

EYE SCALDED BY STEAM

Belting Company Employe in Danger of Losing Use of It.

Louis Fussel, 42 years old, 1708 Dammert avenue, may lose his right eye as the result of having been scalded at the plant of the Schultz Belting Co., Bismarck and Barton streets, Wednesday night.

He was shoveling bark, when the point of his shovel opened a valve on a steam pipe. He was enveloped in steam, and when fellow workmen rescued him, it was found the force of the steam pressure had struck his eye. A physician pronounced the injury serious.

for women, misses and little women; Suits that have all the characteristics of the $40 and $45 kinds. Hosts of everything new in suit fashions, among which are many copies of Paris models.

When we started this sale Wednesday we announced our intention of breaking all previous records in point of value giving—by combining the two great extremes, economy and style. That we have been successful in doing so was evidenced by the host of St. Louis women who took advantage of this sale—women who are too shrewd to merely be "led on" by an announcement. They came to see—and bought—that is the only stamp of approval that counts. We have added for Friday a large number of very attractive suits to fill in depleted assortments, and if you come here Friday you will no doubt find your style, in your color, and your size.

THE FABRICS include every desirable and wanted material for Fall and Winter wear—there are broadcloths, men's wear worsteds, tweeds, wide-wale diagonals, wale-cheviots, corduroy, two-toned English silk and wool diagonals, fine men's wear and hard-finished serges, whipcords, Bedford cords, eponge and velvet.
THE COATS vary from 30 to 42 inches in length, according to the individual cut of the garment—some are lined with guaranteed peau de cygne, others with Skinner's satin. A great many are interlined for warmth. THE SKIRTS include every approved new style—straight gored panel and slight draped effects.
THE COLORS are black, navy, brown, tan, beige, grays, Burgundy, prune, amethyst, Copenhagen blue and white.
They are the uttermost in Suit value which the combined ingenuity of our manufacturing tailors and our buying organization could possibly obtain and offer you.

TURKISH FORT WON BY BALKAN ARMY; BIG FIGHT IMPENDS

Main Ottoman Force Believed to Be Rushing to Reinforce Troops Who Have Been Holding Line to Adrianople and Is Expected to Take Offensive.

STAGE IS SET FOR MAIN WAR DRAMA

Kirk-Kilisseh Which Has Fallen Into Hands of Allied Army Is Believed to Have Been Defended by 70,000 Men.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World.
Copyright, 1912, by Press Publishing Co. (New York World.)

LONDON, Oct. 24.—The Turkish fortress of Kirk-Kilisseh has fallen, according to a news agency dispatch from Sofia. It is regarded as the key to Adrianople, and is the headquarters of the Turkish Third army corps, commanded by Kenaan Pasha.

With the fall of Kirk-Kilisseh the stage is set for the main event to date of the Balkan drama.

British military officers who for many years have made a specialty of studying the Balkan military preparations lean to the belief that the Turkish army has been holding the line between Adrianople and Kirk-Kilisseh with a covering force estimated at about 70,000 men and that the main Ottoman army is only just due on the scene.

This might account for a Turkish statement today that something more definite will be known by tonight, for with the arrival of her main army at the front, Turkey is expected to take the offensive.

Greeks Rout Turks in Narrow Pass in Moonlight Battle.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—Dispatches from Athens describe the big battle which preceded the Greek occupation of Selftidje. This took place at the Stone Gate, a narrow defile miles long, beginning north of Sarantaporon, and offering every advantage to the defender. The cliffs rise higher as the road cuts through northward till at the end of the pass facing Selftidje they tower a thousand feet on each side above the narrow road.

To defend the position the Turks had 22 battalions of infantry and nine batteries of field and mountain artillery, while the Greeks attacked with the full strength of the Crown Prince's army.

The battle began at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning and raged all day.

Owing to the narrowness of the defile and the steep incline of the hills only a limited number of Greeks were able to deliver the assault. They fought with wonderful bravery, the Turks stubbornly. At sundown neither side had gained any advantage. Throughout the evening the fighting continued until the nearly full moon rose on the Cross and the Crescent in deadly combat. At midnight the fighting lulled, a desultory cannon fire alone being maintained.

When the morning broke it was seen that the Turks were retreating, probably due to a threatened turning movement by the Greek second army, which was operating on the Trikkalakosani road and had defeated the Turkish right wing at Deskata.

The Turks maintained a hot rearguard action, being pursued vigorously by the Greeks, who captured 22 guns and a large quantity of munitions. The losses on both sides were heavy. In addition to occupying Selftidje the Greeks also hold the bridge across the Haliakmon, thus cutting off the retreat of the Turks.

Seventy Christians, Including Priest, Massacred by Turks.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—Seventy Christians, including a priest were massacred by the Turks before their retreat from the town of Servia yesterday, according to an official cable to the Greek Legation here today. Among the prisoners taken by the Greeks was one Turkish colonel.

GET A SHINE, TIP BUSS BOY, AID BALKAN WAR FUND

Hundred Young Greeks in St. Louis Too Young to Bear Arms to Give Earnings.

More than 100 St. Louis Greek youths, too young to bear arms against the Turks, will give the greater part of their earnings, so long as the war lasts, to help the older ones who are returning to fight for their country.

The young patriots are employed as bussboys in downtown restaurants, as shoe polishers, and in minor positions in hotels. Each has promised to pay $3 a week or more to the local Greek Consul, beginning next Sunday.

The money paid by the boys will be placed in a bank by the Consul in the name of each of the boys, and drawn as needed.

H. D. Maisthropolos of 306 South Sixth street told a Post-Dispatch reporter Thursday that he had made a thorough canvass among the miner Greek youths, most of whom earn $15 to $20 a month and board.

Maisthropolos announced that a meeting would be held at 3 p. m. Sunday at the Consul's office, to be attended by all Greeks, old and young, at which plans for the return of fighting men would be formed.

WOODROW WILSON'S MESSAGE THROUGH THE POST-DISPATCH TO THE VOTERS OF AMERICA

SEA GIRT, N. J., Oct. 19, 1912.

To the Voters of America:

I AM glad to have an oportunity to state very simply and directly why I am seeking to be elected President of the United States. I feel very deeply that this is not an ambition a man should entertain for his own sake. He must seek to serve a cause, and must know very clearly what cause he is seeking to serve.

The cause I am enlisted in lies very plain to my own view: The Government of the United States, as now bound by the policies which have become characteristic of Republican administration in recent years, is not free to serve the whole people impartially, and it ought to be set free. It has been tied up, whether deliberately or merely by unintentional development, with particular interests, which have used their power, both to control the Government and to control the industrial development of the country. It must be freed from such entanglements and alliances. Until it is freed, it cannot serve the people as a whole. Until it is freed, it cannot undertake any program of social and economic betterment, but must be checked and thwarted at every turn by its patrons and masters.

In practically every speech that I make, I put at the front of what I have to say the question of the tariff and the question of the trusts, but not because of any thought of party strategy, because I believe the solution of these questions to lie at the very heart of the bigger question, whether the Government shall be free or not. The Government is not free because it has granted special favors to particular classes by means of the tariff. The men to whom these special favors have been granted have formed great combinations by which to control enterprise and determine the prices of commodities. They could not have done this had it not been for the tariff. No party, therefore, which does not propose to take away these special favors and prevent monopoly absolutely in the markets of the country sees even so much as the most elementary part of the method by which the Government is to be set free.

The control to which tariff legislation has led, both in the field of politics and in the field of business, is what has produced the most odious features of our present political situation, namely, the absolute domination of powerful bosses. Bosses cannot exist without business alliances. With them politics is hardly distinguishable from business. Bosses maintain their control because they are allied with men who wish their assistance in order to get contracts, in order to obtain special legislative advantages, in order to prevent reforms which will interfere with monopoly or with their enjoyment of special exemptions.

WOODROW WILSON.

Merely as political leaders, not backed by money, not supported by securely intrenched special interests, bosses would be entirely manageable and comparatively powerless. By freeing the Government, therefore, we at the same time break the power of the boss. He traades, he does not govern. He arranges, he does not lead. He sets the stage for what the people are to do; he does not act as their agent or servant, but as their director. For him the real business of politics is done under cover.

The same means that will set the Government free from the influences which now constantly control it would set industry free. The enterprise and initiative of all Americans would be substituted for the enterprise and initiative of a small group of them. Economic democracy would take the place of monopoly and selfish management.

American industry would have a new buoyancy of hope, a new energy, a new variety. With the restoration of freedom would come the restoration of opportunity.

Moreover, an administration would at last be set up in Washington, and a legislative regime, under which real programs could be undertaken as they cannot now. The Government might be serviceable for many things. It might assist in a hundred ways to safeguard the lives and the health and promote the comfort and the happiness of the people; but it can do these things only if its actions be disinterested, only if they respond to public opinion, only if those who lead Government see the country as a whole; feel a deep thrill of intimate sympathy with every class and every interest in it, know how to hold an even hand and listen to men of every sort and equality and origin, in taking counsel what is to be done. Interest must not fight against interest. There must be a common understanding and a free action all together.

The reason that I feel justified in appealing to the voters of this country to support the Democratic party at this critical juncture in its affairs is that the leaders of neither of the other parties propose to attack the problem of a free government at its heart. Neither proposes to make a fundamental change in the policy of the government with regard to tariff duties. It is with both of them in respect of the tariff merely a question of more or less, merely a question of lopping off a little here and amending a little there, while with the Democrats it is a question of principle. Their object is to cut every special favor out, and cut it out just as fast as it can be cut out without upsetting the business processes of the country. Neither does either of the other parties propose seriously to disturb the supremacy of the trusts. Their only remedy is to accept the trusts and regulate them, notwithstanding the fact that most of the trusts are so constructed as to insure high prices; because they are not based upon efficiency but upon monopoly. Their success lies in control. The combination of more efficient competitors, not loaded down by the debts created when the combinations were made, would embarrass and conquer them. The trusts want the protection of the Government, and are likely to get it if either the Republican or the so-called "Progressive" party prevails.

Surely this is a cause. Surely the questions of the pending election, looked at from this point of view, rise into a cause. They are not merely the debates of a casual party contest. They are the issues of life and death to a nation which must be free in order to be strong. What will patriotic men do?

Woodrow Wilson

The Bard's Lament.

By JAMES E. CRAIG.

THE Battle Poet's face was pale, his lips were ashen, too.
He knew not how to turn a phrase; he knew not what to do.
"O Wooer of the Muse," I cried, "O Twanger of the Lyre,
"O Singer of the martial song, O Bard of blood and fire,
"Whence all these sighs that rend thy breast and what dost thou bemoan?"
The poet shed a tear or two and answered with a groan:

"My battle song is mute because this Balkan war is such
"I bust a dozen strings or so each time my lyre I touch.
"I love to sing of blood and fire and boom and blast and strife,
"To sing Valkyries' swashing wings as they take toll of life.
"But then my lute is only tuned to keys of C and D—
"To sing in all these Eastern strains is quite too much for me.

"Some days they fight at Vratzka and at times at Yenekoi,
"Or Chomlck's plain or Lufedji, Kaza Oglu or Sjoi,
"In Maglitz hills or Grabe's mounts or else at Djernlti—
"But if you can pronounce their names you have somewhat on me.
"As pants the hart for water so for war my wild Muse pants,
"But, ding it! she gets strangled on those bloomin' consonants."

SAYS HE SAW JUDGE WHO WASN'T THERE, IS FINED

Printer Venireman Is Tardy in Going to Court With Black Eye.

What appeared at first to be a gilt-edged excuse for tardiness failed to serve John Fahey, a venireman, who appeared in Judge Falkenhainer's court Thursday to explain why he wasn't there at the time ordered.

Fahey, who is a printer, living at 2909 St. Ferdinand avenue, entered the courtroom with a black eye. An attachment had been issued for him after his failure to appear Monday, but it had not been served. He explained that he was in the courtroom Monday afternoon, but that nobody seemed to want his services so he went away again.

"Did you see anybody around that afternoon?" the Judge asked him. "Well, I saw you, but you were busy and I didn't bother you."

"You couldn't have seen me because I wasn't here Monday afternoon," Falkenhainer replied. "I'll fine you $10 for contempt of court and lying."

WOMEN IN HIGH COST RIOT

Two Thousand in Berlin Demolish Shops, Steal Meat.

BERLIN, Oct. 24.—"Dear food" riots increased in violence today. Two thousand women raided a butcher shop in the Wedding district, demolished the premises and stole the meat. The manager was injured seriously. All the other butcher shop in the district have been closed and barricaded.

The police were ordered out in strong force, as the district, which is in the north of Berlin, previously has been the scene of violent disturbances.

$3000 PAID FOR NEGRO PORTER'S COMIC OPERA

Barber Shop Employe Gets $200 Each for Two Songs and $67 for a Short Story.

FRANKFORT, Ind., Oct. 24.—John Berry, negro, a porter in a barber shop, in idle moments wrote words and music of a song, which he sang to the men in the shop. Then he wrote words and music for a comic opera, and a short story, sending them to a Chicago company. The company accepted Berry's offerings, and sent him a check for $3000 for the comic opera, $200 each for two songs, and $67 for the story, making $3467.

Berry resigned his work, left for his home in Muncie, and will devote his time to writing music.

MACHINIST UNABLE TO WORK, HANGS HIMSELF

Wife Finds August Gildemeister's Body in Rear of Home —Back Had Been Hurt.

August Gildemeister's body was found hanging by a wire rope from the ceiling of a summer kitchen in the rear of his home, 5706 West Park avenue, when Mrs. Gildemeister went there Thursday morning. He had gone into the kitchen after breakfast.

Gildemeister was 45 years old and a machinist. Several months ago he sprained his back and had since been unable to work steadily. This distressed him greatly, his wife said. He had been under the treatment of Dr. R. Brent Murphy.

PASTOR CHARGES WIFE DID SKIRT DANCE TO HYMNS

Amended Petition for Divorce by the Rev. W. P. Sachs Describes Conduct.

That Mrs. Florence Sachs used to lift her skirts to her knees and dance about the room while her two daughters were singing hymns, was a charge in an amended petition filed Thursday by the Rev. William P. Sachs, president of Walther College, who is seeking a divorce.

She would deliberately choose the hymn-singing time, the petition states, for what the minister terms her "outrageous performances," and when he reproved her, would declare that the dances befitted the songs. The petition does not state what the songs were.

Another new allegation in the minister's petition was that his wife "constantly and wickedly tyrannized over his conscience by acts degrading and mortifying." The nature of this conduct is not further explained.

The two daughters are living with the Rev. Mr. Sachs, at 3333 Utah place. They are Ruth, 17 years old, and Naomi, 14.

The wife lives at the home of her mother, Mrs. Mary Buchanan, 3443 South Jefferson avenue.

The minister's original divorce suit was filed two months ago. On the same day the wife swore out a warrant for his arrest on a charge of abandoning her.

He charged in the petition he first filed that she talked of killing him, remained away from home for unreasonable lengths of time, would not care for him in illness, and called him such names as "hog, beast and tyrant."

The wife said, at that time, that she fell in love with Sachs when, years before, she heard him preach at a mission. She said she believed then, and that she had since continued to believe, that Sachs was an eloquent preacher, but she found, she said, that he was fond of social gaiety.

As an instance, she said that he once remained until 3 a. m. at a friend's home, and that the friend told her they had been playing dominoes.

SONS GET WILL SET ASIDE

Disinheritance of a Mother Not Upheld by Jury.

A jury in Judge Shields' court Wednesday set aside the will of Mrs. Jane Russell, who disinherited her two sons, Joseph E. Russell and Charles S. Russell, by leaving them $1 each. In their suit attacking the will the sons alleged that their mother had been unduly influenced.

She left her estate to her other children and grandchildren, including George E. Russell, William Russell, Robert Lee Russell, Mrs. Eva Treadway and Lulu Haustest. The testatrix died Sept. 16, 1911. She lived at 4157 Penrose street.

BUSS WILL FILED; $500,000 ESTATE SAVED FROM TROLL

Heirs of Rich County Resident Act Quickly, Fearing That Property in the City Would Fall Into Hands of Public Administrator.

The will of John B. Buss, a wealthy resident of St. Louis County, who died Sunday and whose funeral was held Wednesday, was made public after the funeral by the clerk of the Clayton Probate Court. He stated that the document was filed on the day after Buss's death but that relatives had requested it be kept from the newspapers until Buss had a chance "to get cold in his grave." His estate is estimated by the heirs at more than $500,000.

Plan to Forestall Troll.

The reason for haste in filing, the clerk said Charles H. Buss, a son, explained, was to keep out Harry Troll, St. Louis Public Administrator.

"My father's estate consists of considerable St. Louis property, including a grain elevator at Broadway and Thatcher avenue, and the Reliance Machine and Tool Works, and Troll could jump in and make us a lot of trouble if we did not get ahead of him," the clerk quoted the son as saying.

By the provisions of the will, containing 3600 words and written by Buss himself, the bulk of his estate is to remain in trust during the life of the widow, Sophia E. Buss, and at her death is to be distributed among the eight children or their heirs. It was stated by one son that through an agreement, $10,000 will be given to each one of the children in the next year. Charles H. Buss, a son, of 8646 Drury lane, and C. J. Ward, a son-in-law of Richmond Heights, are named as trustees. They are to pay $400 a month to Mrs. Buss from the income of the property.

A portion of the will is devoted to the disposal of Bible Hall, 3629 Kennerly avenue, which was the property of the testator. It is to be used as a place of worship for religiously inclined persons and shall be exclusively used for such purposes, according to the orthodox faith of the Bible, the will provides.

Buss was 72 years old. He was the principal owner of the Reliance Machine and Tool Works and lived at Jennings, St. Louis County.

$225 RING GONE AFTER VISIT OF BOY AND GIRL

Mrs. Ben Reinberger Reports Disappearance of Mesh Bag After Buying Thread.

Mrs. Ben Reinberger, 5208 Kensington avenue, in reporting the theft of a mesh bag containing a diamond ring valued at $225 and $10 in cash, told the police about the visit of a boy and a girl to her house a short time before the mesh bag disappeared.

About 6:30 p. m. a boy apparently about 10 years old, called and offered safety pins and thread for sale, she said. Mrs. Reinberger purchased some thread and in paying for it took her silver mesh bag from a vase on a table in the front hall. A little girl was waiting for the boy on the sidewalk.

At 10 p. m., when Mrs. Reinberger retired, she looked for her mesh bag, but it was missing. The front door had been left unlocked.

FRESHMEN TAKE SOPH FLAG IN A 6-MINUTE FIGHT

Classmen of National University of Arts and Sciences in a Fierce Battle.

CHASE OF EIGHT BLOCKS

Emblem Taken From Pole on Vacant Lot, Wearing of Cap of Humiliation Escaped.

After six minutes of battle, freshmen of the National University of Arts and Sciences Wednesday morning captured the sophomore flag which floated from a pole on the vacant lot at Laclede and Vandeventer avenues, and thereby escaped the penalty of wearing little caps as their exclusive headgear until Jan. 1. This was to be the badge of their humiliation if they failed to capture the flag within 15 minutes.

The sophomores, 32 in umber, led by their president, Wallace A. Belsey, rallied about the flagpole with arms locked, while a party of sentries stood outside the ring to bear the brunt of the freshmen charge. The freshmen, numbering 50, were led by their president, Will J. Miehe.

At the first rush the sophomore guards were overthrown and the line about the pole was broken. One freshman after another started to climb the 35-foot staff, but was hauled down by the heels. Then the freshmen changed their tactics to seizing each sophomore, throwing him to the ground and assigning one or more freshmen to sit on him This was quickly accomplished because the sophomores were largely outnumbered.

With all the sophomores hors de combat, E. C. Smith shinned up the pole, tore the flag down and threw it to El. X. Link, who fled with the prize into Laclede avenue. Rage at seeing their emblem in the hands of the enemy strengthened a number of sophomores to free themselves and to set out in pursuit.

The chase went on for about eight blocks, one freshman, as soon as he became winded, passing the flag to another. At last F. H. Maples returned to the field with the flag concealed under his sweater, and the freshmen were announced as victors by the referees, Dr. George M. Heath of the faculty, Herbert H. Price of the junior class and E. J. Neinstadt of the senior class. The warriors escaped more serious damage than a number of injured noses.

REASONS WHY WILSON SHOULD BE ELECTED.

EIGHTH TEN.

71. He is a Jeffersonian Democrat.

72. He is defining the fundamental principles of Democracy and applying them to present conditions and governmental problems.

73. He is, in his own words, "interested in having the government of the United States more concerned about human rights than about property rights."

74. He represents the real, vital and effective progressive forces of the country.

75. He stands for the income tax, insisting that wealth should bear its full share of the burdens of the Government.

76. As Governor of New Jersey he secured the passage of laws providing for semi-monthly pay for railroad employes, full crews on railroad trains, employers' liability and compensation for workmen.

77. Col. Roosevelt proposes to legalize monopolies, validate their billions of watered securities and give them government protection and authority.

78. Wilson believes in the protection of labor from injustice instead of the protection of labor's monopolistic oppressors for purposes of plunder.

79. Mr. Taft vetoed the farmers' free list bill, the woollen bill, the steel bill and other bills reducing excessive tariff duties.

80. It is necessary to check the centralizing of power in the National Government which Republican rule has fostered and Roosevelt proposes as a definite policy.

If unscrambling the eggs would mean that he would have to give back the $18,500,000 he got for organizing the Harvester Trust, no wonder Mr. Morgan shuddered.

"EASE AND PLENTY."

Col. Culpeper's master of hounds, Eph Jackson, the same being a colored person, has an unanswerable argument which we cordially commend to Mr. Taft's supporters who are soliciting votes on behalf of "prosperity."

Prosperity in Eph's bright lexicon is all a question of whom you vote for. In 1900 Eph was approached by a politician and asked how he was going to vote. "I'se gwine vote fo' Mr. Bryan," he answered. "Why are you going to do such a thing as that?" argued the politician. "'Kase I want ease and plenty," said Eph. "I voted fo' him de las' time 'kase dey tol' me dat's de way to git ease and plenty—and ain't I done had ease and plenty ever since? Sho' I has, and I'm gwine keep right on votin' for ease and plenty and Mr. Bryan."

It is a beautiful and consoling thought that those who vote for Mr. Taft this year will afterwards go right on enjoying just the same ease and plenty as though he had been re-elected. We suspect that Mr. Taft will get Eph Jackson's vote this year—unless Eph should go right on voting for Mr. Bryan. Mr. Taft has had and will continue to bear exactly the same relation of cause and effect to sunshine, prosperity and pork chops that Mr. Bryan has always borne.

United, the 3304 East St. Louisans can force a solvent and more effective municipal government under existing conditions, even though the commission charter for which they were willing to be counted was rejected.

ABOLISH FORTUNE-TELLING.

It is to be hoped that the House of Delegates will take prompt action on the bill passed by the Council to do away with clairvoyancy as a business.

The fact that St. Louis licenses a great hive of clairvoyants or fortune tellers to prey upon ignorance is a reproach to the city and the character of its people.

It is certainly no violation of anybody's religious freedom under the Constitution to withhold the licensing of graft of this character and to declare it unlawful. It bears a striking analogy to the civil wrong of fraud and to the misdemeanor or felony, as the case may be, of obtaining money by false pretenses or false tokens.

Superstition which invites fraud or crime deserves rather the protection and restraint than the encouragement or license of the law.

PRESIDENT TAFT'S BEST WORK.

President Taft was asked the other day: "Mr. President, what is the hardest work you have done in the White House?" And he answered:

"Unquestionably the appointment of men to the judiciary. I have always regarded this as one of my most sacred and difficult duties. And I am proud of the characters and nobility of the men I have put upon the bench. Nothing could ever make me regret the hours, nights and days I have spent in deciding upon the men to be intrusted with guarding the rights of the people under the Constitution and the law. The importance of the judiciary is gigantic."

No President has been better equipped than Mr. Taft and few have approached him in the qualification for discharging the heavy responsibility of choosing judges for the Supreme Court. To no single President since the tribunal was organized in 1789 have these responsibilities been presented more heavily. To Mr. Taft it has fallen virtually to remake or reman the court. Five of the present incumbents are of his choosing and the Chief Justice was designated by him.

It is but fair to the President to concede that he accepted his responsibilities as great opportunities. Aside from his elevation of Justice White to the chief justiceship, four appointments specially instance his wisdom and patriotism. Lurton, Hughes, Van Devanter and Lamar strengthen and adorn the court by virtue of character, ability, professional attainments and judicial experience.

In his own character and judicial capacities Judge Taft himself measured up to the highest traditions of the tribunal, and he devoted not only a judge's intimate knowledge of judges, but a fine judicial conscience to the selection of his appointees. This fairness and good sense were shown in making a Louisiana Democrat Chief Justice and, by the appointment of two other Democrats, preserving the Court's political poise or its balance of partisan or sectional sentiment.

Easily this has constituted Mr. Taft's best work and principal service to the country. Had the rest of his executive deeds exhibited a once the same fine judgment, intimate insight into national issues and profound sense of obligation to the people it would have been a difficult if not impossible matter to beat him for re-election.

It was his judicial conscience and his judicial understanding which he employed in the making of judges. To other executive acts he brought often his judicial temperament—and found himself without sympathy with or understanding of popular motives and political needs.

With Mr. Taft's departure this year, Beverly, Mass., fades permanently from the map as a summer capital.

EXTREMES IN CAMPAIGN FINANCE.

An employe of a State institution for the insane charges that he has been removed from his place because of a refusal to contribute out of a $40 salary to the Republican campaign fund. This is one extreme in the evils of campaign finance, the other being contributions so large as to give the donors a claim on the party's protection.

The Missouri G. O. P. has well-to-do members enough to make it independent both of tainted contribution and graft on ill-paid State appointees.

Booth, Guiteau, Czolgosz, Prendergast, Gallegher and Schrank form a melancholy sextette in American history to which, let us hope, no additions will be made.

A BERNARD SHAW REVOLUTIONIST.

Captured and jailed, Felix Diaz will now have leisure for a re-examination of his copy of Mr. Shaw's "Handbook of a Revolutionist." If he had made that useful work of satire his sole guide in planning his revolution—and it must always be suspected that he did—the insurrection he got up could hardly have burlesqued revolution more successfully.

His collapse is the one comic note in a deplorable year. Only a week ago the world was holding its breath and intimating as well as it could in such breathless condition that it was Armageddon now for Madero. Gen. Diaz's name was one to conjure with, we were told. Felix's relationship to the late dictator would draw thousands to him. He was an accomplished soldier. He had picked the psychological moment. His capture of Vera Cruz had not only given him a rich port and sea communication, but had opened to him the historic route over which every successful invader in Mexican history—Cortes, Gen. Scott, Maximilian—had advanced to the capital. Today a chance to join Uncle Porfirio in Paris would be too absurd and unexpected a stroke of happy fate to be hoped for. Among a thousand Mexican revolutions, his has the record for futility and brevity.

That he has come to grief must exert a moral effect on Mexican malcontents generally. It must mean the beginning of the end of the republic's troubles. It is time safety was restored. The patience of the rest of the world has been sorely tried by the confusion and disorder in this brawling corner of it.

Cortelyou is a bad asset this year.

IS SCHRANK REALLY INSANE?

John Schrank's mind is not so disordered as to sustain him after his attack on Col. Roosevelt in a conviction that what he did was right and just. He is now said to believe that his murderous impulse was wrongful and to regret it.

W. C. Zobel, the Socialist District Attorney at Milwaukee, is not at all inclined to the theory of insanity. "If mad, he has method in his madness," he says, after having the prisoner under observation for a week. One circumstance that has impressed the District Attorney is Schrank's apparent shrewdness in picking out as the place for his assault a State that has abolished the capital penalty.

It is consoling to think that such an assault could have been inspired only by an insane mind, but if Schrank is sane no presumption of irresponsibility should be permitted to mitigate his punishment. The issue should have careful determination by the best qualified experts in the country. Mr. Zobel was prudent in insisting on a reasonable delay before taking up the case, instead of yielding to the clamor for rushing the case to a conclusion.

WHY I AM GOING TO VOTE FOR WILSON

The Post-Dispatch invites letters from readers giving the special reason or reasons that induced them to support Wilson for President. Give specific reasons, preferably in one sentence, not exceeding 50 words.

One of "The Immortal Ns."

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Because he is outspoken on the Democratic platform. He is opposed to monopolies and in favor of equal rights to all, exclusive privileges to none. And furthermore, insignificant as it may appear, several of our former presidents, such as Washington, Jefferson, Madison, Jackson, Van Buren, W. H. Harrison, Buchanan, Lincoln, Johnson, Tilden—now conceded to have been elected—and Benjamin Harrison—whose names like that of Wilson's terminate with an "n"—were among the most illustrious of presidents. Though in my eighty-fifth year, may I hope some day to see William Jennings Bryan's name added to the long list of the immortal Ns. PATRICK H. BLAND.

For Reasons of Humanity.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

As a Democrat, dyed-in-the-wool, I expect to vote for Woodrow Wilson, without money and without price, because he is a Jeffersonian in personality and his works are founded on that grand and noble principle which makes men to become sociable and humane.

Urbana, Ill. G. H. ELSBERN.

In a Nutshell.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

He is a Democrat.
He is a gentleman.
He is a scholar.
Being a gentleman, he is honest.
Being a scholar, he is capable.
He is not a professional politician.
He is not an offensive egotist.
He is not fat and fatuous.
He is not of the lean and hungry calculating Cassius type.
He is the logical Progressive candidate.

R. L.

Will Prevent "White Peonage."

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The Republican party has outlived its usefulness, has drifted from patriotism to huckstering, and if they remain in power much longer we will be like the Republic of Mexico. Only a few "very wealthy" men will own and control, and instead of negro slavery, we will have white peonage, which we would have at present if it had not been for labor unions.

T. T. HATHAWAY.

Prosperity.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

A foolish cartoon in a foolish political organ reminds me that in the "hard times" I saved money on the pay I am getting in 1912. Now it is bare living. Surely no salaried man whose pay has not been increased in proportion to living expenses will vote for the present high-tariff graft scheme. A. M.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

The Butcher Closing Bill.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I notice that Delegate George Eigel of the Tenth Ward is to try and have a bill passed to have all the butchers close their shops all day Sunday, instead of 9 o'clock, as it is now. He ought to be ashamed of himself. What is a person to do that has no ice box? Some time ago the butchers had to close all day Sunday. I bought my meat Saturday night, and when I went to use the meat Sunday morning I couldn't use it, just because I had no ice box. It's no crime to let the butchers keep their shops open Sunday morning till 9 o'clock; that gives everyone a chance. Delegate Eigel ought to devote his time to something else. Why don't he introduce a bill to close up the downtown (supposed restaurants) in back of saloons, where young girls are taken in. I hope Mr. Eigel will consider this bill before he goes further. Nine o'clock closing is fair and necessary. FAIR PLAY.

Near-Side Dangers.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Give us back the far-side stop! A Page car passenger getting off at Broadway must cross Washington avenue before he can get the Broadway car. Crossing Washington avenue now is a danger. OLD PASSENGER.

Farris a Handicap.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Is there no way to get Frank H. Farris off the electoral ticket? It may cost Wilson one electoral vote if Farris is kept on the ticket. Some of us will not disgrace ourselves by voting for such a man.

A WILSON DEMOCRAT.

Why Doesn't Missouri Pension Its Blind?

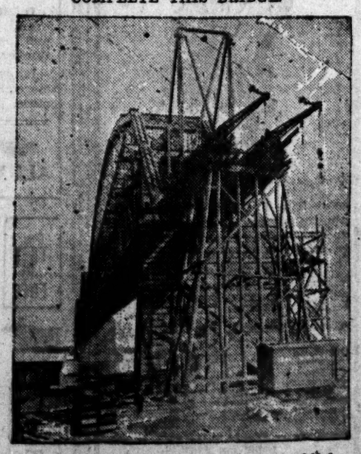

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The blind people of St. Louis, as members of the Missouri Association, are more than anxious to secure a pension for the blind of this State.

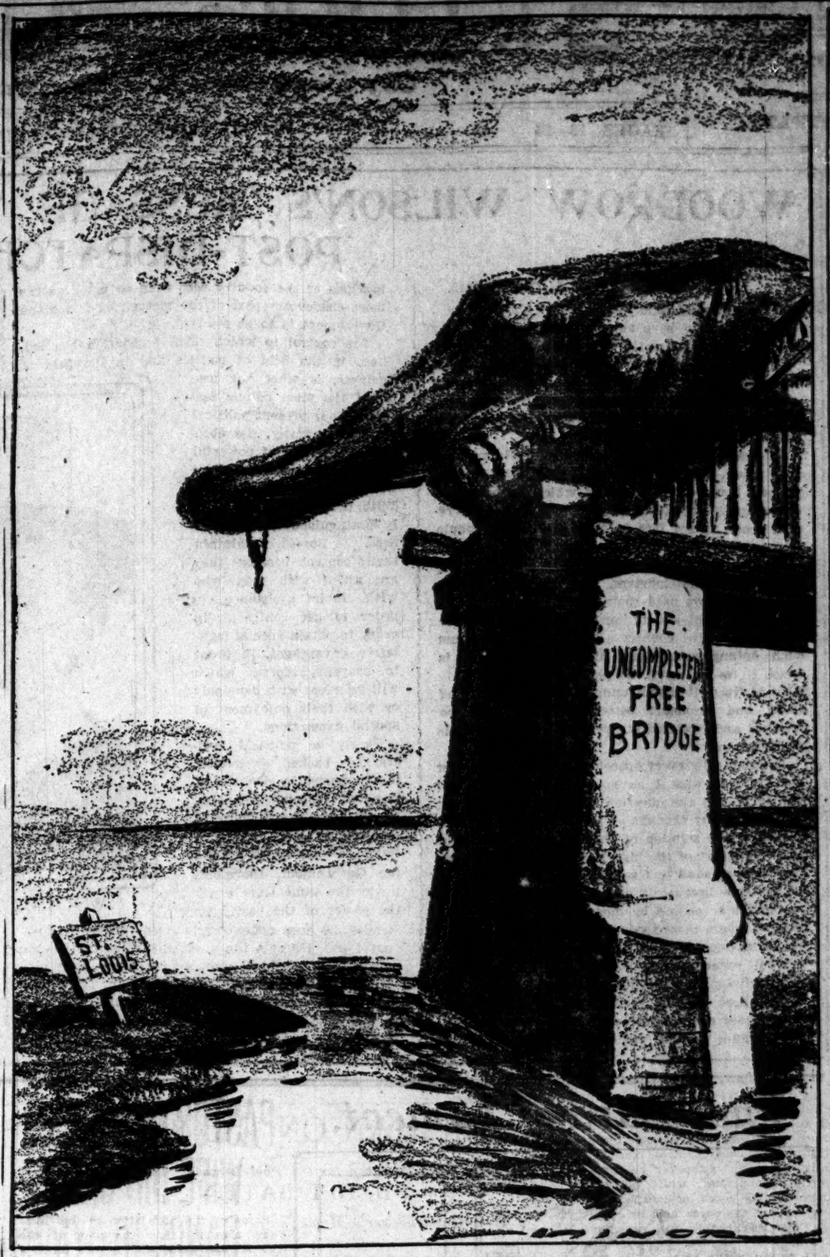

Missouri is just as up-to-date, just as able and, we believe, is just as willing, to help those who are trying to help themselves as the State of Illinois. But as the people here have little real knowledge of the blind and their true situation, it is very difficult to interest persons of power and influence in our cause.

Knowing how many great and good things have been accomplished in the past through the Post-Dispatch, we feel sure that could the interest and co-operation of that paper and its many readers be secured, the pension would not be long forthcoming. J. A. F., a blind girl.

COMPLETE THIS BRIDGE.

For the seventy-seventh time we publish a picture of the unfinished free bridge as a reminder to citizens of a shameful blot on the municipal record and to emphasize the necessity of voting for the bridge bonds on election day.

THE FINGER OF SCORN.

WHY WASTE YOUR VOTE?

From the New York World.

Every vote for Woodrow Wilson is a vote for progressive government. Every progressive vote against Woodrow Wilson is a vote thrown away, or worse than thrown away.

Mr. Roosevelt cannot be elected. As between him and Mr. Taft the contest is merely a question of which will run third. This may be interesting, but it is not important to the welfare of the American people. Even if Mr. Roosevelt could by any possible chance be elected, his victory would result only in a deadlock government. He would have a hostile Congress to deal with, which did not recognize his leadership and which would not work with him. His election would mean merely four years of turmoil without profit to the country.

Gov. Wilson can be elected and he will be elected. But this is not enough. He should be elected by a majority so great that there can be no mistake as to the meaning of the people's mandate. He will go into office with a Democratic House. And if his majority is large enough he will have a Democratic Senate as well. This will make President Wilson the leader of a united party in full control of both branches of Congress and in a position to carry out all the progressive policies to which he is pledged.

The country will have immediate revision of the tariff to reduce the cost of living, with as little disturbance to legitimate business as possible. It will have an honest enforcement of the law against predatory trusts and monopolies.

It will have a free government emancipated from boss rule and from corporation rule. It will have a sane, progressive administration of public affairs from the day of Woodrow Wilson's inauguration.

That is what the great mass of the American people want, whether they call themselves Democrats or Republicans or Progressives. That is what they will get if they act intelligently. The way to get it is to give Gov. Wilson a majority so overwhelming that it will be indeed the voice of the people.

Why waste your vote?

Getting Away From Hanna.

From World's Work.

In preceding campaigns few men cared how much money a candidate had, where he got it, or how he spent it. But the awakening of a public conscience has been swift; and the new spirit of jealous integrity with which we now watch the gathering of political funds and prepare to scrutinize the sworn statements of their expenditure is astonishing. The influence of Mr Hanna is at last passing.

Getting the Goods on Him.

From the San Francisco Chronicle.

"I don't remember saying all those wicked things?" declared the man at the gate.

"Gabriel, produce the dictograph," ordered the recording angel.

Greek Letter Boys' Chance.

From the Indianapolis Star.

Now is the time for the Greek letter fraternities to take up arms against the Turkish cigarette.

JUST A MINUTE.

Written for the Post-Dispatch by Clark McAdams.

ABOUT POLLS.

"What is a poll?" asked Peterkin,
"And how in blazes can it show
That any candidate will win,
When all the figures vary so?"

"A poll, my son, is not presumed
To show us who will rise or fall.
The candidates are only boomed
In this way, Peterkin, is all.

"For instance, Mr. Taft, poor soul,
May seem politically dead,
Whereat his friends will make a poll,
And show him easily ahead.

"Or should the sexton haply toll
The bell on Wilson in the West,
His managers will make a poll,
And show him distancing the rest.

"A poll for Roosevelt, in case
It looked as if they had him downed,
Would make it seem a sort of chase,
With all the others playing hound.

"The only polls you can believe
Are those your party may devise,
With no intention to deceive,
And all the rest of them are lies."

"I thought as much," said Peterkin,
"For how could everybody win,
As all the polling indicates?"

MR. DEBS' FOX PASS.

Mr. Debs, who is engaged this year at his regular vocation of running for President on the Socialist ticket, appears to have made the principal faux pas of the campaign. He showed up at New Bedford, Mass., the other day with his trousers creased. The sturdy peasantry of the Bay State promptly repudiated him, and it is freely predicted that he will not get any votes in Massachusetts at all.

The incident illustrates the extent to which the stress of a hard campaign can render a candidate careless of those little things which are peculiarly vital. There are parts of the country in which it would be as disastrous to appear without a sharp crease in one's trousers as it is to appear in Massachusetts with them. Col. Roosevelt, after all, is the only candidate in the field who knows how to run for the office he seeks. He excited a good deal of comment when he appeared in Ohio last spring in a pair of blue jumpers, but he won the primary over Mr. Taft's long-tailed coat, and he will continue to win so long as his opponents disregard the sartorial requirements of political expediency. Mr. Debs may have a great many qualification for the office he seeks, but if he hasn't the wardrobe, he'll never get it. As the poet has said:

Clothes make the man. His pantaloons
Especially decide his fate,
And on his choice all cherished boons
In life's great Armageddon wait.
The pants he wears are more than all
The realms that intellect may range,
And whether he shall rise or fall
Depends entirely on the change.

ANOTHER ROUT.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

HOUSEHOLD HELPS.

E. E.—When lamps become very dirty a teaspoon of soda to a quart of hot soapsuds will cleanse them thoroughly, but the washing should be quickly done lest the soda injure the outside metal, bronze or decorated china. And the drying is as important as the washing—for if a lamp is to be safe it must be perfectly dry. A veteran housekeeper says that washing lamp chimneys is a waste of time. Just hold them over the steam from a boiling teakettle then rub them off with a dry newspaper folded up into a wad and lastly with a soft cloth and they will be all that can be desired. Washing makes chimneys brittle, anyway.

BEETS.—To keep vegetables: A housekeeper writes: Take a large soap box, put a layer of sand in the bottom, then potatoes to half fill the box, then cover with sand (have sand between potatoes and sides of box), then put another layer of potatoes that won't quite fill the box, then fill with sand. Beets kept this way are like fresh beets all winter. All other vegetables may be kept this way. It may be quite a little work, but when you can save 50 per cent by getting them in the fall, I think it is worth while. They keep nice and firm until one can afford to get new potatoes; also if one is keeping them for seed, put them in sand to keep them from sprouting till you want them.

O. W. R.—Buttermilk is said to be the best possible thing to clean linoleum and oilcloth. To have a noiseless and warm floor, put clean sawdust of a thickness sufficient to equalize all knots and rough places of the floor, then lay the linoleum. Don't tack linoleum. Have it cut about half inch shorter than floor space to be covered to allow for spreading. Take a strip of canvas or heavy unbleached cotton about five inches wide. Lay or tack this in floor wherever linoleum is placed. Pour melted glue (which should be quite stiff) on the cloth thick enough so it will soak up between the cracks. Lay a board lengthwise across the linoleum where it has been glued. Place weights on it, and leave until glue is thoroughly dry. This will keep the edges from being broken and also prevent water from running beneath when mopping.

LAW POINTS.

JINKS.—If you hunt with any kind of a rifle you must have license.

M. C. K.—Talk to the landlord at once about the disputed garret. He is the one to settle the matter.

D. J.—Arkansas non-resident hunting license $15. Deer open season (except in Chicot County, Oct. 1-Feb. 1) Sept. 1-Feb. 1. Duck season not mentioned.

MOORE.—Any Missouri or other member of the electoral college may vote as he pleases, but, as a matter of honor, the electors always vote as the party electing them expects. This is invariably the rule.

A. B. M.—If you were absent from Missouri two years, and can show that you did not vote while you were absent, and that you had no intention of giving up your Missouri residence, you may possibly be allowed to vote.

SUBSCRIBER.—In 1905 Illinois amended its divorce law by providing that neither party should marry within one year from the time of granting the decree. Marriage of divorced Illinois persons in Missouri within one year would not now be recognized in Illinois. You will have to live in Missouri.

UNANSWERED.—Still waters run deep, but the devil is at the bottom, means that quiet persons may be very wicked. Civilized persons, however, are likely to be quiet without being wicked. Noise is barbarism.

C.—Pronounce Mixzi Hajos mit-zi hy-os. A Russian lady here pronounces Nazimova nah-zi-mo-vah, accenting mo; New York pronounces it nash-zim-o-vah, accenting zim. One writer says: "Natz-im-o-va. Both a's are sounded as in opera, the i in pin, and o as in note. The principal accent is on the second syllable."

YELLOW SAHIB.—(Supplemental). Standard pear trees are produced by grafting or budding on quince stock. Trees are set in the orchard two or three years from the bud, standard trees from 18 to 25 feet apart each way and dwarfs 10 to 16 feet. Dwarfs are set deep, 4 to 6 inches below the union, to prevent breaking off in storms. Cultivation is practiced only during spring and early summer. (Send to Department of Agriculture for Farmers' Bulletin 463—free.)

I. Z. G.—A Bull Moose says: "During the closing years of his second term of office Washington became anxious for his term to end, and nothing save his duty to his country kept him from resigning, and he began to count the days and hours when he would become a private citizen, and he issued his 'Farewell Address' to the people. He never said that he did not favor a third term and the probability is that if conditions were more to his liking, if the different factions could have been harmonized and his health had been better, he might have been a candidate for a third term, if the people desired it."

E. H. F.—"We stand at Armageddon battling for the Lord," was a figure of speech drawn from the Bible, though the revised version has Har-Magedon instead of Armageddon. The word occurs only once in the Bible (Rev. xvi, 16), and it refers to the Valley of Megiddo, where Josiah went out to fight and was slain (II Chron. xxxv, 22). As used in Revelation, Har-Magedon means the scene of the great battle between the forces of good and evil that will precede the millennial reign of Christ on earth. Driven to desperation by their sufferings, we are told, all the evil inhabitants of the earth will gather there for a last fight. Their leaders, the "dragon" (satan), the "beast" and the "false prophet" will cast forth from their mouths three unclean spirits, which, by working miracles, will deceive the kings of the earth and make them gather with their subjects on the side of evil. Thus, by a sort of poetic license Armageddon or Har-Magedon has come to stand for any battlefield where a great struggle is to be made.

A. C. D.—Halloween: Three dishes are placed side by side, one full of clean water, one with muddy water and the other empty. The guests are blindfolded and one by one advance to find their fates by dipping their fingers into one of the dishes. The clear water indicates that a maiden or a young man, as the case may be, will be the fortunate one's lot; the muddy water portends a widow or a widower; the empty dish, a spinster or a bachelor. Then the guests try their fortunes with candles. Three candles are placed at an open window, each guest naming each candle for a sweetheart, without telling the names. The candle that puffs out first stands for unfaithfulness; the first to flicker, for fickleness; and the one that burns longest, for faithfulness. Tossing peanuts: Put a large hollowed-out pumpkin on the floor. About eight feet away have a large bowl of peanuts. Each player has five trials. He uses a large spoon with which he may dip up one or more nuts. He tries to throw them into the pumpkin, which is a task requiring much skill. A prize is awarded to the number each succeeds in making and awards the winner a blue ribbon decorated with figures of black cats and witches. (Not often. Answers Oct. 8 and 15.)

This is the second of the "Red Cross Girl" stories which Col. Roosevelt Read while in the Mercy Hospital at Chicago.

PETER HALLOWELL, a student at Stillwater College—which his father's money founded—who fails of graduation because he got only five in ancient history and is sent to Turkey with a tutor to bone for re-examination in the fall. When Peter in Constantinople hears that Prof. Gilman has been dropped he protests to his father, who refuses to order his reinstatement. With the aid of Stetson, an American friend, Peter undertakes to get an Order of the Crescent from the Sultan for Gilman and makes Stetson press agent of a great Gilman movement.

PROF. GILMAN, who holds the chair of history at Stillwater, is the author of five volumes on the history of Turkey; he refused to pass Peter and was retired in consequence.

PRESIDENT BLACK of Stillwater College, a toady gift-seeker.

PART III.

THAT same night in the smoking room of the hotel Peter and Stetson made their first move in the game of winning for Prof. Gilman the Order of the Crescent. Stetson presented Peter to a young effendi in a frock coat and fez. Stetson called him Osman. He was a clerk in the foreign office and appeared to be "a friend of a friend of a friend" of the assistant third secretary.

The five volumes of the "Rise and Fall" were spread before him, and Peter demanded to know why so distinguished a caller as Dr. Gilman had not received some recognition from the country he had so sympathetically described. Osman fingered the volumes doubtfully, and promised the matter should be brought at once to the attention of the Grand Vizier.

After he had departed, Stetson explained that Osman had just as little chance of getting within speaking distance of the Grand Vizier as of the ladies of his harem.

"It's like Tammany," said Stetson, "there are sachems, district leaders and lieutenants. Each of them is entitled to trade or give away a few of these decorations, just as each district leader gets his percentage of jobs in the street-cleaning department. This fellow will go to his patron, his patron will go to some under secretary in the cabinet, he will put it up to a palace favorite, and they will divide your money.

"In time the Minister of Foreign Affairs will sign your brevet and a hundred others, without knowing what he is signing; then you cable me, and the Star of the Crescent will burst upon the United States in a way that will make Halley's comet look like a wax match."

The next day Stetson and the tutor sailed for home and Peter was left alone to pursue, as he supposed, the Order of the Crescent. On the contrary, he found that the Order of the Crescent was pursuing him. He had not appreciated that, from underlings and back-stair politicians, an itinerant showman like Stetson and the only son of an American Croesus would receive very different treatment.

Within 24 hours a fat man with a blue-black beard and diamond rings called with Osman to apologize for the latter. Osman the fat man explained, had been about to make a fatal error. For Dr. Gilman he had asked the Order of the Crescent of the fifth class, the same class that had been given Stetson. The fifth class, the fat man explained, was all very well for tradesmen, dragomans and eunuchs, but as an honor for a savant as distinguished as the friend of Mr. Hallowell, the fourth class would hardly be high enough. The fees, the fat man added, would also be higher; but, he pointed out, it was worth the difference, because the fourth class entitled the wearer to a salute from all sentries.

"There are few sentries at Stillwater," said Peter; "but I want the best and I want it quick. Get me the fourth class."

The next morning he was surprised by an early visit from Stimson of the embassy. The secretary was considerably annoyed.

"MY dear Hallowell," he protested, "why the devil didn't you tell me you wanted a decoration? Of course, the State Department expressly forbids us to ask for one for ourselves, or for anyone else. But what's the Constitution between friends? I'll get it for you at once—but, on two conditions: That you don't tell anybody about it, and that you tell me why you want it, and what you ever did to deserve it."

Instead, Peter explained fully and so sympathetically that the diplomat demanded that he, too, should be enrolled as one of the Gilman Defense Committee.

"Dr. Gilman's history," he said, "must be presented to the Sultan. You must have the five volumes rebound in red and green, the colors of Mohammed, and with as much gold tooling as they can carry. I hope," he added, "they are not soiled."

"Not by me," Peter assured him.

"I will take them myself," continued Stimson, "to Muley Pasha, the Minister of Foreign Affairs, and ask him to present them to His Imperial Majesty. He will promise to do so, but he won't; he knows I know he won't, so that is all right. And in return he will present you with the Order of the Crescent of the third class."

"Going up!" exclaimed Peter. "The third class. That will cost me my entire letter of credit."

"Not at all," said Stimson. "I've saved you from the grafters. It will cost you only what you pay to have the books rebound. And the third class is a real honor of which anyone might be proud. You wear it round, your neck, and at your funeral it entitles you to an escort of a thousand soldiers."

"I'd rather put up with fewer soldiers," said Peter, "and wear it longer round my neck. What's the matter with our getting the second class or the first class?"

At such ignorance Stimson could not repress a smile.

"The first class," he explained, patiently, "is the Great Grand Cross, and is given only to reigning sovereigns, the second is called the Grand Cross and is bestowed only on crowned princes, prime ministers and men of world-wide fame—"

"What's the matter with Doctor Gilman's being of world-wide fame?" said Peter. "He will be some day, when Stetson starts boosting."

"Some day," retorted Stimson stiffly, "I may be an ambassador. When I am I hope to get the Grand Cross of the Crescent, but not now. I'm sorry you're not satisfied," he added aggrievedly. "No one can get you anything higher than the third class, and I may lose my official head asking for that."

"Nothing is too good for old man Gilman," said Peter, "nor for you. You get the third class for him, and I'll have father make you an ambassador."

THAT night at poker at the club Peter sat next to Prince Abdul, who had come from a reception at the grand vizier's and still wore his decorations. Decorations now fascinated Peter, and those on the coat of the young prince he regarded with wide-eyed awe. He also regarded Abdul with wide-eyed awe, because he was the favorite nephew of the Sultan, and because he enjoyed the reputation of having the worst reputation in Turkey. Peter wondered why. He always had found Abdul charming, distinguished, courteous to the verge of humility, most cleverly cynical, most brilliantly amusing. At poker he almost invariably won, and while doing so was so politely bored, so indifferent to his cards and the cards held by others, that Peter declared he had never met his equal.

In a pause in the game, while some one tore the cover off a fresh pack, Peter pointed to the star of diamonds that nestled behind the lapel of Abdul's coat.

"May I ask what that is?" said Peter.

The price frowned at his diamond sunburst as though it annoyed him, and then smiled delightedly.

"It is an order," he said in a quick aside, "bestowed only upon men of world-wide fame. I dined tonight," he explained, "with your charming compatriot, Mr. Joseph Stimson."

"And Joe told?" said Peter.

The prince nodded. "Joe told," he repeated, "but it is all arranged. Your distinguished friend, the Sage of Stillwater, will receive the Crescent of the third class."

Peter's eyes were still fastened hungrily upon the diamond sunburst.

"Why," he demanded, "can't someone get him one like that?"

As though about to take offense, the Prince raised his eyebrows, and then thought better of it and smiled.

"There are only two men in all Turkey," he said, "who could do that."

"And is the Sultan the other one?" asked Peter. The Prince gasped as though he had suddenly stepped beneath a cold shower, and then laughed long and silently.

"You flatter me," he murmured.

"You know you could if you liked!" whispered Peter stoutly.

Apparently Abdul did not hear him. "I will take one card," he said.

TOWARD 2 in the morning there was 75,000 francs in the pot, and all save Prince Abdul and Peter had dropped out.

"Will you divide?" asked the Prince.

"Why should I?" said Peter. "I've got you beat now. Do you raise me or call?" The Prince called and laid down a full house. Peter showed four tens.

"I will deal you one hand, double or quits," said the Prince.

Over the end of his cigar Peter squinted at the great heap of mother-of-pearl counters and gold pieces and bank notes.

"You will pay me double what is on the table," he said, "or you quit owing me nothing."

The Prince nodded.

"Go ahead," said Peter.

The Prince dealt them each a hand and discarded two cards. Peter held a seven, a pair of kings and a pair of fours. Hoping to draw another king, which might give him a three higher than the three held by Abdul, he threw away the seven and the lower pair. He caught another king. The Prince showed three queens and shrugged his shoulders.

Peter leaning toward him spoke out of the corner of his mouth.

"I'll make you a sporting proposition," he murmured. "You owe me a hundred and fifty thousand francs. I'll stake that against what only two men in the empire can give me."

The Prince allowed his eyes to travel slowly round the circle of the table. But the puzzled glances of the other players showed that to them Peter's proposal conveyed no meaning.

The Prince smiled cynically.

"For yourself?" he demanded.

"For Dr. Gilman," said Peter.

"We will cut for deal and one hand will decide," said the prince. His voice dropped to a whisper. "And no one must ever know," he warned.

Peter also could be cynical.

"Not even the Sultan," he said.

Abdul won the deal and gave himself a very good hand. But the hand he dealt Peter was the better one.

THE prince was a good loser. The afternoon the Gazette Officielle announced that upon Dr. Henry Gilman, professor emeritus of the University of Stillwater, U. S. A., the Sultan had been graciously pleased to confer the Grand Cross of the Order of the Crescent.

Peter flashed the great news to Stetson. The cable caught him at quarantine. It read "Captured Crescent, Grand Cross. Get busy."

But before Stetson could get busy the campaign of publicity had been brilliantly opened from Constantinople. Prince Abdul, although pitchforked into the Gilman defense Committee, proved himself one of its most enthusiastic members.

"For me it becomes a case of noblesse oblige," he declared. "If it is worth doing at all it is worth doing well. Today the Sultan will command that the "Rise and Fall" be translated into Arabic, and that it be placed in the national library. Moreover, the University of Constantinople, the College of Salonica, and the National Historical Society have each elected Dr. Gilman an honorary member. I proposed him, the Patriarch of Mesopotamia seconded him. And the Turkish Ambassador in America has been instructed to present the insignia with his own hands."

THE MAN ON THE ROAD

Written for the Post-Dispatch

By H. T. BATTIN

No. 3.—The Hat Checker's Memory.

"I USED to cover the South," began the tooth paste drummer, "and in all hotels in that section of the country there was sure to be a colored hat clerk outside the dining room door to take the hats from the guests. These would be put on shelves along the wall and restored to the rightful owners after the meal. Some of these colored men had wonderful memories.

"There was a real wizard at a Charleston hotel for years. This man was so sure of his faculty that he would pay $5 to any guest who could show a mistake on his part in restoring the proper hat. He was a sort of half-witted darkey, always singing to himself. But he was there with a memory that was as automatic as a machine.

"Some of the boys tried to fool him. They thought that the color of the necktie was associated in the darky's mind with the hat placed on a certain rack. Now, the hat was put on the rack before the wearer was seated, so it must have been something about the personality. The boys wore ready-made bow ties and changed them during the meal, but that didn't short-circuit his memory a bit. Others changed coats, and when that didn't work, they changed tables.

"Each time the right hat would be handed out by the darky, who would not even bother to stop humming his little tune to himself. One time, the clerk told me, a linen salesman handed him a derby, but carried a cap in his pocket until going out, when he held it in his hand. He got his derby just the same."

"Did any one ever win the five?" asked the clothing man.

"Yes," responded the tooth paste salesman. "A book agent once went out by way of the kitchen and came around the other way for his hat. This seemed to puzzle the colored man and he paid the $5 like a good sport."

THE POCKET ENCYCLOPEDIA

WHY do we enjoy meat in cold weather more than in hot? In cold weather the system craves the carbon and hydrogen heat supplied by meats.

How can weather be foretold by clouds? When cumulus (or massed) clouds are fleecy and sail against the wind they indicate rain. When they sail with the wind and are hard of outline, fine weather may be expected

Why do candles sputter when rain is near? The air is full of vapor. This vapor penetrates the candle wick, is turned into steam and expands so suddenly as to cause a little explosion.

Why does soap increase water's cleansing power? It unites with the grease on hands or clothes and renders it soluble in water.

Letters of a Slim-Made Woman to Her Fat Sister

Seventh Letter: On the Fat Woman's Thimble-of-Water Bath

Dear Sis—Just out of the bath—invigorated—glowing and hungrily awaiting the dinner gong, with the appetite and digestion of a stevedore. And such a bath as I had—you remember that before I took off that 90 pounds excess weight there used to be a tubful-of-me-and-a-bucketful-of-water and that I had to put myself through several "rinsings" to get rid of the excess soap.

You know, sis, what a daily misery—and necessity—bathing used to be when I was fat. But now that I have gotten rid of that excess "displacement"—changed my name from "Ava Du Pois" to "Symmetrical Betty," I cannot only take a real bath in real water, but can wash my own back.

Now, sis, dear, don't forget to follow that harmless formula I gave you—you remember it is ½ oz. Marmola powder, ½ oz. Cascara Aromatic and 3½ oz. Peppermint Water, a teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime.

I beat you to slimness, but don't let me keep too far in the lead—and remember, dear, it will improve your digestion, your health and complexion and you can eat what you like, be as lazy as you choose and keep on getting thin. Give Marmola a persistent trial and in the end you will win as did your

Expect to go soon again to his city, and my folks don't want me to speak to him. Should I see him?"

He is making $22.50 a month and is a "flunky," so to speak, but has excellent chance to work his way up. Now, Miss Vincent, I wish you would tell me if we could marry under these circumstances and if we could live happy."

You are both too young to think of marriage. The lad of 16 would only grow tired of you and his burden very soon. Forty dollars a month is a miserable income for two in St. Louis, and besides, it is against the law for minors to marry here.

A Slight Matter.

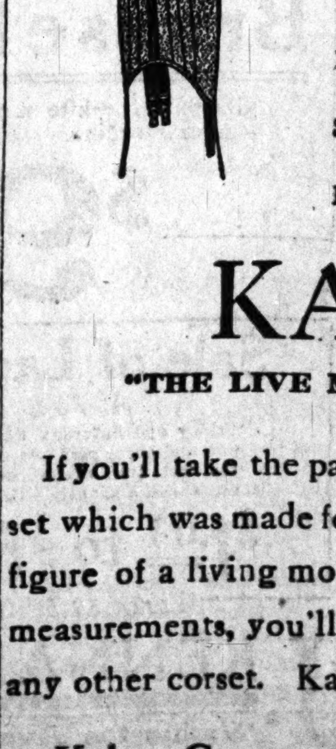

E. R. writes: "A young man and I are very much in love, but I am two years older than he and his mother objects to our marriage. Shall I give him up on that account?"

Not if you are both of age. The difference between you is too slight necessarily to make you unhappy.

THE ORIGIN OF FAMILIAR PHRASES

Written for the Post-Dispatch

By REV. MADISON C. PETERS.

MANY a slip—Ancaus, King of Leleges, in Samos, an island in the Grecian archipelago, planted a vineyard and so heavily oppressed his slaves, that one ventured the prediction that he would never live to taste the wine thereof. Sending for the slave, when the wine was ready to be used, the King said: "What do you think of your prophecy now?" The King was informed at this moment that a wild boar had broken into his vineyard, and, setting down the cup untasted, hastened to drive out the boar, and was killed in the encounter. "There is many a slip 'twixt cup and the lip."

"You'll never set the Thames on fire."—The word "Thames" in this saying should be "temse," the ancient name for a sieve used by millers for separating flour from bran. The sieve was kept in motion by a man sliding it backwards and forwards on a wooden frame. With an active man the temse would sometimes set fire to its rim by friction, but an idler would never set "the temse on fire," hence the proverb.

"Knuckle under."—Knuckle anciently applied to any point of the body, but particularly the knee, and hence to knuckle under meant to kneel and crave forgiveness. It was an old custom to strike under the side of the table with the knuckles in admission of having been beaten in an argument.

"MARY'S little lamb."—Mary, who had a little lamb, was a Massachusetts girl. The lamb was one of twins thrust out by its mother. Mary took it home and it became the family pet. One day it stayed away, and as Mary went to school the lamb heard her voice and followed her to the schoolhouse, where she picked it up, covered it with her shawl until she was called into her class, when the lamb pattered after her; the children laughed, the teacher reproved, and the explanation given, she was allowed to take the lamb home. A young man from Boston, a student at Harvard, happened to be at the school that morning, and produced three verses. The lamb lived many years and came to its death on the horns of an angry cow.

"No royal road to learning.—Euclid, the father of mathematics, born at Alexandria, 300 B. C., asked by a pupil if geometry could not be made easier, said: "There is no royal road to learning."

"Pouring oil on troubled waters."—This old expression has been traced back far as Pliny, A. D. 23—79, who speaks in his "Natural History" of the good results of pouring oil in a stormy sea. Scientists have recorded the calming effect of oil poured on a stormy sea. Figuratively, "oil upon troubled waters" is equivalent to a "soft answer turneth away wrath."

FORBIDS GIVING LIQUOR AS MEDICINE TO INDIANS

Commissioner Abbott Assures Sweeping Orders to Stop Insobriety Among Redskins.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—Prohibition on all Indian agents and Indian employes has been ordered by Acting Commissioner Abbott of the Indian Bureau, who, today, issued directions to employes to co-operate constantly in overcoming the great difficulties of keeping intoxicating liquors from the Indians.

Recent reports to the bureau indicate there is a laxity at some Indian schools and agencies and certain Government physicians prescribe liquors for medicinal purposes. Dr. Abbott warned that intoxicants constituted a great menace to Indian health and progress and that use of liquor without permission of the Secretary of War, even for medicinal purposes, was prohibited, except wines for church purposes.

When He Asked for a Raise Employer Told Him He Was Getting All He Earned.

YONKERS, N. Y., Oct. 24.—When John D. Rockefeller was a boy he worked for Isaac H. Ewing of Cleveland, an uncle of Henry Clews, a New York banker. Clews, in speaking to the Yonkers High School told this story:

"My uncle was paying Rockefeller $15 a week. This did not look so very big to young John D., so he paraded up to Mr. Ewing and asked for more money.

"'Why do you want more money?' asked Uncle Isaac.

"'Because my work merits an increase,' said Rockefeller.

"'Wrong again,' said my uncle, 'you're getting all you're worth.'"

LA SALLE FRIDAY BARGAIN
Delicious Saratoga Puffs, 10c box.

ELDERLY FOLKS! YOUR LAXATIVE IS GENTLE, EFFECTIVE "SYRUP OF FIGS."

To old people, Syrup of Figs is particularly for you. You who don't exercise as much as you need to; who like the easy chair. You, whose steps are slow and whose muscles are less elastic. You must realize that your liver has become less active.

Don't regard Syrup of Figs as physic. It stimulates the liver, just as exercise would do if you took enough of it. It is not harsh like salts or cathartics. The help which Syrup of Figs gives to a torpid liver and weak, sluggish bowels is harmless, natural and gentle.

When eyes grow dim, you help them. Do the same with your liver and bowels when age makes them less active. There is nothing more important. You will never get feeling right until this is corrected—but do it gently. For your sake, please use only gentle, effective Syrup of Figs. Then you are not drugging yourself, for Syrup of Figs is composed of only luscious figs, senna and aromatics which cannot injure.

A teaspoonful tonight will gently, but thoroughly, move out of your system by morning all the bile, poisonous fermenting food without gripe, nausea or weakness.

But get the genuine. Ask your druggist for the full name, "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna." Refuse, with contempt, any other Fig Syrup unless it bears the name—prepared by the California Fig Syrup Company. Read the label.—ADV.

WILSON DENIES HE'S MEMBER OF CATHOLIC ORDER

Writes to McAdoo He Is "Normal Man, Trying to Treat Every Creed Impartially."

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—As an answer to the widely circulated report that he had joined the Knights of Columbus, a Catholic Society, Gov. Woodrow Wilson has sent the following letter to William G. McAdoo, vice-chairman of the Democratic National Committee:

"Princeton, N. J., Oct. 22.

"Dear Mr. McAdoo: My attention has been called to the statement that I have become a member of the Knights of Columbus. This is, of course, not true. I have not been asked to join the order either as an active or honorary member, and am not eligible because I am not a Catholic.

"I am a normal man, following my own natural courses of thought, playing no favorites, and trying to treat every creed and class with impartiality and respect. Very sincerely yours,

"WOODROW WILSON."

The announcement that Gov. Wilson had joined the organization referred to was originally printed in a New York paper, which later retracted the statement.

RIIS CALLS T. R. HUMANITARIAN IN POLITICAL MOTIVES

Declares Progressive Leader Has Always Fought Battles of the Poor.

JANE ADDAMS IS CHEERED

Mention of Her Name Arouses Enthusiasm at Unusual Odeon Meeting.

Jacob A. Riis, New York author and social settlement worker, discussed the humanitarian side of Theodore Roosevelt before an audience of men and women at a progressive party meeting that crowded the Odeon Wednesday night. Henry F. Cochems of Milwaukee, chairman of the Speakers' Bureau of the National Progressive party, discussed the humanitarian programm of the Progressive party. Upon the insistent demand of local leaders, Cochems, who was in the automobile with Roosevelt the night he was shot in Milwaukee, gave a personal narrative of the attempt to take the Progressive leader's life.

The Riis meeting was declared by veteran politicians who were there to be wholly unlike any other political meeting they had ever attended. The first speech of the evening was delivered by a woman, Mrs. D. C. Heath, president of the women's auxiliary movement. A solo was sung, and a collection was taken by young women to raise money to defray the expenses of the meeting. Admission to the Odeon was by ticket, which caused so much delay in getting the crowd into the hall that many persons, tired of waiting to get in, went away.

Jane Addams Was Cheered.

The speeches were as different in their tone from the ordinary political speech as was the meeting itself from ordinary political gatherings. Riis said that he could speak with authority on the humanitarian side of Col. Roosevelt, as he had been his intimate friend and associate for 25 years. The audience was demonstrative, and at every mention of Col. Roosevelt's name, or the name of any man or woman active in the movement, gave vent to its enthusiasm in prolonged cheers. The name of Jane Addams, the Chicago settlement worker, when mentioned by the speakers, brought forth almost as much applause as the mention of Col. Roosevelt's name.

Riis said that his first acquaintance with Col. Roosevelt was 25 years ago, soon after he had written a book, "How the Other Half Lives," describing the conditions of the poor in New York City. Riis was then a police reporter in New York. When he returned to his desk from one of his assignments he said he found on it Roosevelt's card, with this sentence written under his name: "I have read your book, and I have come to help."

He told how Roosevelt became interested in the struggles of the poor, and how as an assemblyman in the New York Legislature he fought for laws for the betterment of the conditions of the toilers.

The women in the audience stood and and cheered when Riis told how Roosevelt, when he was President, revoked an order prohibiting the cabling of names of private soldiers killed in Philippine skirmishes. The names of officers were cabled, he said, but when reports would come in that a certain number of privates of a certain company had been killed, every mother who had a son in that company was given nervous prostration, fearing that her boy was among the slain.

Revoked Order at Dinner.

"I called Col. Roosevelt's attention to this order at a dinner to army officers at Oyster Bay," said Riis. "He turned to Gen. Corbin and asked if such an order existed. Corbin told him it did, for the reason that it would cost $25 or $50 to cable the names of the privates.

"Col. Roosevelt called for a telegraphic blank and at the dinner table wrote a revocation of this order, saying that the mothers of these soldiers had given the country the best they had and that the country had no right to make them suffer by trying to save cable tolls."

Riis vouched for the high motives of Col. Roosevelt and declared that the recent attempt to assassinate him was the result of unfair newspaper attacks.

Cochems discussed at length the Progressive legislation of Wisconsin and some other states, and declared that the states that had passed adequate laws for the protection of their labor, found it difficult to compete with the states that had now laws regulating labor, because those states were able to produce manufactured products cheap by the employment of child labor and the grinding of the faces of the poor women. National laws were needed, he said, to prevent discrimination against Progressive states.

City Chairman Harry F. Cantwell opened the meeting and presented National Committeeman William H. Walker as permanent chairman of the evening. Arthur N. Sager, who had been active in arranging the meeting, was called in to introduce Cochems.

Mrs. Heath created laughter by the opening sentence of her speech, which began, "Friends Progressive, friends Democratic, and friends of the lost cause." The speakers gave no attention to the Republicans, treating Taft and the Republican party as the "lost cause."

HIRING HUGGINS MAY SAVE CARDS $8000 A SEASON

By Eliminating the 10-Per-Cent Clause and Giving Rabbitt $6000, Local Club Could Make Big Profit.

By W. J. O'CONNOR.

WHY was Roger Bresnahan fired?

Baseball fans who swore allegiance to the former Cardinal manager and who paid coin of the realm to see him perform, are trying to answer this question. To date they have been unsuccessful.

However, those close to the "inner circle" of the Cardinal club say Bresnahan was dismissed because his contract called for too much money.

The writer is able positively to state that Bresnahan's contract called for $10,000 per annum and 10 per cent of the net profits. In addition, stipulations were made in Roger's contract that the whole officiate of the Cardinal club should receive not more than $10,000 in salaries.

Seekamp Received $5000.

That is if Mrs. Helene Britton chose to hire a president, secretary, treasurer, groundkeeper, stenographer, press agent and a few lawyers, she couldn't disburse more than $10,000 among the whole retinue of servants. That's where the rub came.

It is understood that Herman Seekamp, the treasurer and business manager of the club, received $5000 a year. That left only $5000 to be split up between Stenographer Davies, Groundkeeper Shaner and his assistants, and the attorneys. If Mrs. Britton elected to pay out more than $10,000 to all her help she was obliged under the terms of Bresnahan's contract to charge this against her own account. That is, Bresnahan would collect his 10 per cent of the net profits before any amount in excess of $10,000 for salaries had been deducted from the annual earnings.

Of course there was bound to be a hitch here. Attorney fees alone for the Cardinal club in the past year would probably have been greatly in excess of $10,000.

Roger Was to Be Boss.

In justification of Bresnahan's contract, Roger's friends say that when the contract was drawn there was no need of heavy expenditures. Bresnahan was capable of running the club on the field. He also could handle the business affairs of the club, much after the fashion of Johnny McGraw, another smart baseball man, who has complete control of the New York club. President Brush of the Giants seldom visits the park. His health has been failing for years and he leaves the Giants in charge of Mr. McGraw, who is assisted by J. C. O'Brien, a well-groomed baseball man. The Giants have made bigger money in the past five years than any other National League club.

But conditions in the Cardinal club didn't remain the same as they were when Bresnahan signed his five-year contract in the fall of 1911. Complications suddenly arose. Mr. Steininger had to be ousted as administrator. Attorneys were needed. Later a new president was sought. There were more legal entanglements over F. N. Abercrombie's claim to the right of administering the Robison estate. The Abercrombie case went to the legal courts and attorneys again were in demand.

Hug Can Be Hired for $6000.

Bresnahan's contract caused no little worry to the owners. Now the contract has been canceled.

So-called expert baseball men say that Miller Huggins can be retained as manager for a salary of no more than $6000. It is understood that the Rabbit now is receiving $4000. A $2000 a year increase and a chance to make good as manager is sufficient inducement to make Hug take up where Roger was dropped off. That means the local club, by supplanting Bresnahan with Huggins, will save sure $4000 a year, and possibly twice that much by the elimination of the 10 per cent clause. That must be seriously considered in this day of the money-mad magnate's rush for ironmen.

CARDS MAY TRAIN AT PHEONIX, ARIZ., IN '13

WORD comes from far-away Phoenix, Ariz., that the Cardinals will pitch their training camp there next spring. Whether this tip from the far West is true, can not be verified at the local club's headquarters as it is the policy of said club to give out no news.

However, via Phoenix, it is learned that officials of the Cardinal club have asked for training quarters and the Business Men's League of Phoenix is busy making arrangements for the Cardinal's coming. Before he was deposed as manager, Roger Bresnahan was dickering for training quarters at Augusta, Ga.

How foolish of Roger?

STOVALL WANTS ROGER TO CATCH FOR BROWNS

AN answer to the question: Would you be willing to pay Roger Bresnahan $10,000 a year to catch for the Browns? Manager Stovall of the local American League club, who is in Canyon City, Ariz., on his way to San Francisco, his home, wired back to St. Louis, Thursday:

"I would like to have Bresnahan and will get him if there is any possible chance."

As the Post-Dispatch stated Wednesday, there is a "possible chance." Unless baseball is slavery, Bresnahan, once released unconditionally by Mrs. Britton, should be free to sign with the Browns.

Can Older League Afford to Lose Men Like Bresnahan and Chance?

VIRTUALLY the same situation presents itself in Chicago, where Frank Chance has been deposed as manager. Oddly enough, Chance's former second baseman, Johnny Evers, will, like Huggins, ascend to the managerial throne. Chance was a $10,000-a-year man. Some say he received $12,000 per annum. He also owned a block of stock. Evers can be had for $6500. Murphy will be saving no less than $3000.

But National League rooters are wondering whether the parent body can withstand the shock of losing two such men as Bresnahan and Chance in one season. If the older organization can weather the storm which is sure to blow up next spring, then it will be time to say that baseball is as impregnable as the rocks of Gibraltar.

Tough Times Ahead.

The National League seems to be in for it. It has met with rebuff after rebuff for the past two years. The American League has proved its supremacy over the older organization in all the inter-league clashes in every city but St. Louis. Indeed, it's a fact that Bresnahan was the only manager in the parent body capable of beating his American League vis-a-vis. But for doing this Roger was congratulated and then fired.

The trouble with the National League is that it has no Ban Johnson. The American League president must be applauded for the business like manner in which he runs his organization. He stands or law and order—nothing else. He wants discipline and he gets it from everybody from the magnate down to the spectator, the least person to be considered.

When Ty Cobb assaulted a spectator in New York, Johnson, by long-distance phone, suspended Cobb and then investigated the case. This action caused a riot, but Johnson came out on top. In the National League they investigate first and then suspend—perhaps.

If Horace Fogel, the Philadelphia president, had been in the American League when he attacked the integrity of the umpires and the very game itself, he would have been suspended forthwith.

But Fogel hasn't been suspended as yet, and furthermore he defies the powers that be in his League. He has attacked President Lynch and his fellow magnates. Still he remains unchastised.

It is peculiarly peculiar though that none of these baseball brawls find their way into the legal courts. And for that reason fans are interested in knowing whether Manager Bresnahan will be allowed to appeal to the legal courts.

Some say that Attorney Ion Hocker received permission from seven National League magnates to fight Bresnahan's case in court in case Roger refused to accept the settlement offered him at Wednesday's meeting of the Cardinal club directorate. The terms of this settlement were not made known, but it is true that Bresnahan turned every proposition down. He intends to stand on his contract.

Now if Bresnahan takes his case to the legal courts, the American League, as a party to the national agreement, will have something to say about whether the case shall be threshed out in the legal courts. And just wait and see if Ban Johnson's command as to the advisability of fighting the case in the courts can be reduced to the letter. The Cardinal club officials, it is safe to say, will eventually obey Ban Johnson, and either settle or fight. Johnson is the moving spirit of organized baseball, as recent developments have proved.

In the meantime the fans will be left in the dark as to what really is going to happen. President J. T. Jones says there is nothing further to be said. Maybe there isn't.

DISTRESS SIGNAL IS HUNG OUT BY WILL KLOSTERMAN

Several Vacancies on St. Leo Team Result in a Hurry-Up Call for Talent.

By CLARENCE F. LLOYD.

Will Klosterman, who has piloted the St. Leos to 10 soccer pennants in the last 10 seasons, has hung up the signal of distress. With the season already under way, Klosterman finds himself shy of talent and must make eleventh-hour additions to his squad.

After much hustling he was able to put on eleven men last Sunday, but unless he increases his troupe, the Leos may be forced to play with only nine or ten men, if Referee McSweeney decides to suspend any of the champions.

Klosterman has received word that Medric Boucher, one of his fullbacks, will not play this season, as he has employment in Dubuque, Ia. The Tallmans, who were to have joined the St. Leos, are back in Chicago, having failed to procure jobs here. Halfback Peterson has resigned, and Dave Miller is also lost to the champs.

Issues Call for Players.

So Klosterman has issued a call for new material. He says he will give any promising soccerite a trial with the St Leos. All they have to do is to report at Athletic Park next Sunday and make a noise like a kicker. Klosterman will then pass out the uniforms. He has already heard from two ambitious players. One is a Scotchman named Simpson, who will be tried at forward Sunday. Another named Haynes, halfback, saw last Sunday's games, and announced that he could hold his own in the local going. He's also slated for duty.

With Klosterman using recruits, the Innisfails will have an excelt chance of beating the champions Sunday. These teams meet for the first time this season Sunday. The Columbus Club and Business Men's A. C. eleven mix in the opener at 2 o'clock.

Amateurs Get Late Start.

A meeting of team managers will be held at Christian Brothers College Thursday evening, when the Amateur Soccer League will be organized. The season, however, will not be inaugurated until after Thanksgiving, as most of the C. B. C. athletes are now devoting their time to college football. Officers will be elected.

M. A. C. SETS DATE OF ANNUAL TEN-MILE RUN

The annual 10-mile run, under the auspices of the Missouri Athletic Club, has been scheduled Nov. 30. The start is at Normandie and the finish in front of the downtown club. Joe Erxleben won this event last season, with Irvin Biel second. They will again complete this season, having started to train. Their most dangerous rivals seem to be Frank Johnson of Granite City, now a member of the M. A. C., and John Kaysing.

SPORT SALAD

BY L. C. DAVIS.

A FINISH FIGHT.

Come all you rooters if you want to hear
The greatest story of the present year;
J. C. Jones is the hero's name,
As a baseball president he won his fame.
J. C. said to Roger: "Mr. Bresnahan,
I'm going to present you with a lovely can;
In other words, you'd better beat it double quick!"
So he tied a can to Roger, but it wouldn't stick.

J. C. Jones tied a can to Roger,
J. C. Jones, but it wouldn't stick;
J. C. Jones tied a can to Roger
And he tide a can to Roger, but it wouldn't stick.

Roger said to J. C.: "I would like to bet
The author of this movement is a suffragette."
But the rooters all knew by Mrs. Britton's groans
That the man who did the fighting was J. C. Jones.
Jones looked at his watch and his watch was slow;
He looked at the Duke, but the Duke said, "No!"
Then folding up his papers to the Duke he said,
"There'll be a legal battle, but we'll all be dead."

J. C. Jones, there'll be a legal battle;
J. C. Jones, but we'll all be dead;
J. C. Jones, there'll be a legal battle,
And there'll be a legal battle, but we'll all be dead.

* * *

And the worst of it is, the Duke hasn't any heirs to carry on the battle after his demise.

* * *

* * *

And again we are confronted by the momentus question, why is a contract? Or when is a contract? Or what is a contract?

* * *

EVERYBODY'S DOING IT.

Bill Carrigan, Heine Wagner and several other Red Sox players are hunting up in the woods of Maine for big game; Charley Comiskey and a party of friends are hunting wild duck and other things up in Wisconsin and Roger Bresnahan is in St. Louis hunting up a good, husky young lawyer who hasn't anything particular in sight for the next 20 years.

* * *

BUT THEN WHAT'S THE USE.

Frank Chance, Roger Bresnahan, Jimmy Sheckard, Joe Tinker and "Miner" Brown are all eligible to membership in the "I should worry" club.

* * *

BATTING FOR WRAY.

Truth, crushed to earth had risen again. "By jings!" he remarks, brushing the dust from his clothes, "that fisherman has got an awful punch. He nearly put me out that time."

* * *

SMATTER POP?

By the way, what has become of old "Pop" Anson? A world's series has been played and won and the name of the old warhorse has not been mentioned once.

* * *

UNVEILED.

The mystery of "The Man in the Iron Mask" has been solved. His name is Johnny Evers of Troy, N. Y. He has been engaged by President Murphy to manage the unmanageable Cubs.

CARPENTIER QUITS IN FIGHT WITH B. PAPKE

PARIS, Oct. 24.—Georges Carpentier, the French champion, quit after the seventeenth round of his fight with Billy Papke, the Illinois Thunderbolt, here last night. Papke was overweight at 3 o'clock in the afternoon and forfeited $1000, but Carpentier announced that the fight would go on as scheduled, but would not be for the middleweight title.

Carpentier had assimilated a lot of punishment before he retired. A left hook to the jaw floored him in the seventeenth and although he staggered to his feet his seconds tossed a sponge in the ring before the eighteenth mill began. Papke received $5000 for his share of the purse.

DIAMOND GLINTS

King Cole, the barber, who essayed to pitch ball in the National League and did pretty well for the Cubs his first season, has been released to the Columbus (American Association) club. Cole last season was traded to Pittsburg with Art Hofman for Tommy Leach and Lefty Leifield.

Dick Kinsella, the Cardinal scout, said St. Louis a flying visit Wednesday. Dick, like everybody else from the rock-bound shores of Maine to the sun-kissed hills of California, was surprised by Bresnahan's dismissal.

BILLIKENS WILL NOT HAVE ZACH FOR MIAMI GAME

Star Halfback, Unfit for Work This Week, Will Be Saved for Creighton.

Dame Fortune doesn't deign to giggle on the herculean efforts being put forth by Coach Fred Dennie of the St. Louis U. gridiron gladiators. Try as he may, Mr. Dennie just can't get his light racing machine exploding on all cylinders in unison. It will "miss" now and then, and as a result the high-powered little football turnout has been unable to do itself justice so far this season.

There was more "engine" trouble detected Wednesday evening when Artie Zachritz, the artful dodger who holds forth at left halfback, announced that he would be unable to play Saturday, when Miami calls. This Miami aggregation comes here with a clean record, numbering among its season's conquests a 13-8 victory over Kentucky State. Any team that slips the Wildcats the short end of the count deserves serious recognition. And for that reason Dennie was particularly keen about having Zach ready for the next conflict. But Zach complains of a lame lung as the result of a severe bump he received in the Westminster game and he deems it wise to rest up this week, so as to be ready for the collision with Creighton, Nov. 2.

Beware of Creighton.

Indeed all eyes are focused on Creighton at this date. The Omaha eleven last Saturday surprised with a 50—0 victory over Marquette College. The latter school had beaten all the minor college elevens in and around Milwaukee by hefty scores. And understand the minor colleges of Wisconsin usually are some pumpkins in a football way. Hence the great importance attached to Creighton's topheavy conquest over Marquette.

In addition, the Billikens will buck the Creighton continent in Omaha. It's the only game away from home and Dennie must allow for stage fright and other incidentals which play a part in a college man's journey into alien territory. Creighton is coached by "Red" Miller, the star of Notre Dame's famous team, two years ago. "Red" is a demon and he has the knack of demonizing his charges. His Creighton creation is said to be a wonderful work of football art.

Miller showed here at the windup of the 1910 campaign. He came a-calling with the other Notre Dame boys as a party to the Lyman Doolin-Eddie Cochems foot-season gridiron treat. He showed at Sportsman's Park and proved himself a terror on two wheels. His proteges are of the same makeup.

Ratican Sure to Play.

Hence Zachritz will be held in reserve next Saturday when Miami calls. But with Zach on the side lines, Harry Ratican will be in there scoring touchdowns. Harry is a star and his absence from the Rolla game is one big reason why the Miners held the Billikens to a 13—0 score. Jack McCarthy probably will play the other half, while Snyder and Sish will hold down the wing jobs. Paul Kistner still is taking the rest cure.

MINSTREL MAN EVANS MAY PURCHASE CARDS

Failure to obtain the Philadelphia National League club may cause George Evans, the minstrel, and Jim Gorbett, ex-heavyweight champion, to put in a bid for Mrs. Britton's holdings in the Cardinals. Evans and Corbett had formed a syndicate to purchase the Phillies, but President Fogel said their bid was too low.

Evans is coming to the Century with his minstrels No. 3 and is said to be ready to offer Mrs. Britton a good sum for the Robinson Park cadets.

Titsworth, Mrs. Maggie Kindermann and Mrs. H. J. Wright.

Boxers Soon Must Earn Titles at New Weights

France and England Have Already Agreed to Join With America in Adopting a Revised Code of Rules.

By ROBERT EDGREN

A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

Copyright, 1912, by Press Publishing Co. (New York World.)

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—I see that my many suggestions regarding the fixing of a definite set of weights in the various boxing classes have had some effect. The New York Boxing Commissioners have been corresponding with the French Federation of Boxing Clubs and the National Sporting Club of England. As a result these organizations have agreed to join with the American body and adopt an international set of weights and boxing rules.

Yesterday the commission received from President Rosseau of the French organization a letter saying that he would like to receive suggestions for rules and weights, so that the ideas of the boxing authorities in different countries can be compared. He added that France and England are anxious to join with us in settling the matter.

This means that within a month or two we will have universal rules and the sport will be stronger all over the world than ever before in its history. Australia is also getting into line and will have a say in the adoption of the rules.

Here Are New Weights.

The boxing commissioners forwarded this weight list to France:

	Pounds.
Paperweight	108
Bantamweight	115
Featherweight	125
Lightweight	135
Welterweight	145
Middleweight	158
Commission	175
Heavyweight, over	175

This list presents changes in all classes except the middleweight and the heavyweight.

The "paperweight" is an English division, generally referred to in this country simply as the "108-pound class." The name is an English joke. Get it? In France the "paperweights" are called "Petite."

It is hard to imagine why, when a simple system is followed in placing the weights for other classes, numbers should be attached to the paperweight and the middleweight divisions, inviting a renewal of the ancient weight confusion. It would be much better to make the "paperweights" either 105 or 110 and the middleweights 140 instead of 158. Why the 158? If any changes are to be made, why not change the weights in all classes.

The simplest and most satisfactory way would be to advance from class to class by tens. That would make it:

Paperweight, 110 pounds; bantam, 120; feather, 130; light, 140; welter, 150; middle, 160; light-heavy, 180. There would be no chance to change these figures, as the public would recognize the ..., twenty, thirty effect and laugh at anybody claiming that the title really should go with 155 pounds or any other weight not written with decimals.

As for the plea that some of the present champions would be injured by changing the weights—what of it? It would all be the same six months from now and there would be a list of champions at recognized weights. If the present crop couldn't hold its end up, no doubt the new champions would do quite as well.

A boxer at 130 pounds, in these days of giants, would be a real "light-heavyweight." The commission hasn't explained what is meant by "commission weight."

Ringside weighins, suggested by the Boxing Commission, has been very satisfactory since the commission ruled that all boxers must weigh just before entering the ring in New York bouts. For the first time people know what the fighters really weigh. Ringside weighing has stopped the talking about weight. We no longer have to listen to the sad tales of "welterweights" and "middleweights" who can't get anyone to fight them at their alleged weights, the fact of the matter being that they weighed fifteen or twenty pounds over the class limits, and wanted an unfair advantage.

Russian Promoter Withdraws Bid Made for a Johnson Bout

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.

RICHARD KLEGIN, who was negotiating with Jack Johnson a few days ago, offering the negro $30,000 for his end to fight Sam McVey in Moscow, Russia, in January, has flatly withdrawn his bid. When he began to talk business to Johnson the papers were not yet giving details of Johnson's recent troubles in Chicago.

Klegin doesn't care to have any business dealing with Johnson, even though the black escapes court proceedings in Chicago. He will fix up some other big match for Moscow, possibly one between Sam McVey and Sam Langford, or possibly between some of the big white men now in the ring.

Allan Hancock, Water Polo Star, to Play No More

The Missouri Athletic Club water polo team, which holds the national A. A. U. title, has practically been wrecked and as a result no big meets have been scheduled. Several trial games will be staged in an effort to learn the strength of the new material before big contests are booked.

The latest loss to the outfit is Allan Hancock, who was slated to captain the team this winter. He says he will play no more because he has a slight attack of rheumatism and his presence in the water prevents its cure. He is one of the most valuable members of the team.

Hancock's resignation follows closely that of Manfred Töeppen, who, according to the M. A. C. paddlers, is giving up the sport to become a benedict. The Cohn brothers are unable to devote much time to swimming because they have positions on the road. Gus Goessling has been out of it for quite a while.

Siegel Is Only Veteran.

That means that Hugh Siegel is practically the only veteran of the squad remaining. J. B. Waters, one of the subs last season, is now coaching the Regiment swimmers while Rudie Aaken, another second string man, has resigned from the club.

GEORGE: I doubted your love, but I know it's true since you bought me the fine diamond ring from Loftis Bros. & Co. on credit.

McCarthy Has Edge in Weight Over Art Magirl

Art Magirl, the Oklahoman, will enter the ring weighing about 148 pounds, for his eight-round bout with Tim McCarthy before the members of the Auto Drivers' Club Friday evening. Although McCarthy will come in at a much heavier notch than 148 pounds, Magirl is at his best at that notch and believes he'll be returned the winner.

Billy Trueman will serve as referee of the three bouts. Announcement is made that memberships may be procured Thursday for Friday's contests. "Spider" Maffitt, who was to have met Charley Cain in the curtain raiser, has reported sick, and will be unable to show. Instead, Emmett West of Oklahoma will go on with Cain. He owns a six-round draw with Tommy Dixon. Harry Wade and Eddie Menney will meet in the semi-windup.

Frankie Whitney, the "Fighting Carpenter" of Cedar Rapids, makes his St. Louis bow against Jerry Murphy before the Columbian A. C., Nov. 8. Whitney is touted as a top-notch lightweight, and if he succeeds against Murphy, may be pitted against Harry Trendall, St. Louis' premier 133-pounder.

* * *

Tony Ortel says he is able to accommodate Matchmaker La Vine of the St. Louis A. C. with a good 122-pounder for Bobby McCord for the Coliseum show next Tuesday. Ortel wants to spring Benny McGovern on McCord again. The last meeting proved a walkover for Benjamin.

CHANCE HAS HAD NO OFFER FROM OWNER OF CARDS

Will Not Consider Local Job Unless He Is Asked to Succeed Bresnahan.

CHICAGO, Oct. 24.—Johnny Evers, the peppery little Trojan, has been selected by Owner Murphy to manage the Cubs next season. The papers are being made out now, and Evers expects to sign up today. The close of the week will find the reorganization of the Cubs completed. It is expected there will be a wholesale cut of the veterans on the team.

Evers refused to discuss his new honors. As soon as it became known that Chance had been decapitated as leader of the Cubs, other cities which are eager to obtain his services became busy. St. Louis took the lead, but Mrs. Britton is not certain as to Chance's status, however, and will await further developments.

"I have not received any offer from St. Louis," said Chance. "I cannot say what I will do if such an offer comes. It will be time enough to consider it when it is received."

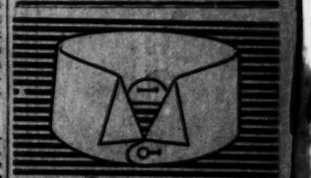

Reds Want Ex-Cub Leader.

Cincinnati has been trying to land Chance as manager of the Reds ever since it became known that he had fallen out with Murphy. Garry Herrmann has made several offers, none of which has received a definite answer from Chance. Conditions in Cincinnati are such that it is believed Chance will decline any overtures from that team.

Chance, when asked what he knew about the agreement which had been reached between Evers and Murphy, said:

"If it is so, I wish Johnny all the luck in the world. I hope he can make a success of it."

WITNESSES IN JACK JOHNSON CASE DISAPPEAR

Some Said to Have Left Chicago and Subpenas for Others Are Issued.

CHORUS GIRLS IN CASE

Negro Said to Have Fired White Women Who Did Not Accept Attentions.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, Oct. 24.—Important witnesses wanted in the Federal investigation of the Jack Johnson-Lucille Cameron affair have disappeared and officers are searching for them. Some are said to have left the city.

Many additional subpoenas were issued today for witnesses. Lucile Cameron is to be the first witness before the jury when it resumes hearings Monday.

Troubles crowd thick and fast on Johnson today. The most sensational development of the Lucille Cameron abduction case is the assertion that the Federal grand jury intends to investigate charges that Johnson, on his theatrical tours, forced his attentions on the white chorus girls in his company, threatening them with dismissal if they did not submit. The first intimation of the vile happenings on these theatrical tours is said to have been given to the grand jury by the pugilist's own brother.

The second sensation in the case came when the negro was sued for $25,000 for alienating the affections of the mulatto wife of another negro.

Next, it was announced, Johnson would lose the license for his "Cafe de Champion," Nov. 1, and finally it was said the Government would prosecute him on a charge of smuggling jewels into the country.

Shot by Negro's Wife.

It was Willard Davis, a negro railroad man, who sued Johnson for damages for alienating the affections of his wife, Adah Banks Davis. The woman was a singer in Johnson's cafe. She quarreled with Johnson last Thursday about the Cameron girl, it is said, and shot at him. The bullet struck a toe and he is walking with a limp. He caused a warrant to be issued for Mrs. Davis, but so far the warrant has not been served. Davis is an employe of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and accuses Johnson of breaking up his home. The Davis woman was served with a Federal grand jury subpena.

The grand jury continues to investigate Johnson's associations with different women. It is currently reported today that an indictment will be returned charging him with bringing girls into the State for immoral purposes.

Charles Johnson, a younger brother, was one of the most bitter witnesses against the champion before the jury.

"I told everything," he said. "The hand of God has got that man. Why, he tried to send me over the road on a charge of burglary. Why should I not tell the truth about him?

"I was told not to tell what my testimony was. But I refuse to be a tool for Jack any longer. I answered every question and told everything I knew. Jack tried to reach me by telephone three days ago, but I refused to see him. It is a pity that my mother and the family must suffer for his actions."

Girl's in Negro's Car.

The younger Johnson is believed to have told of vaudeville trips during which his brother had many girls in a private car. Sig Hart, Johnson's former manager, but now his enemy, has been summoned to verify the story.

Recently Hart told a friend of incidents connected with Johnson's vaudeville tours. Johnson is alleged by Hart to have taken white girls in his private car on some of these trips. When girls have been in his vaudeville company he is alleged, according to stories told, to have given them a choice of leaving the company or receiving his attentions.

The District Attorney sent several telegrams to former members of Johnson's vaudeville company and followed it up by sending detectives to places like Johnson's saloon, where blacks and whites gather, to arrest persons selling objectionable books.

Lucile Cameron is too weak to appear before the Cook County grand jury, but will continue her story as soon as she recovers. She is being kept in the Rockford (Ill.) jail and her mother is sharing her cell. She is fully reconciled with her mother and says she'll tell her complete story. The girl is said to have protected Johnson in her story to the grand jury thus far. She asserted she came to the city with a woman from Minneapolis and met Johnson afterward.

In her statement today Mrs. Cameron-Falconet, mother of the Cameron girl, said:

"My daughter and myself are completely reconciled. She is sorry for the trouble she has made. She had told me she will go with me anywhere and said she wanted to live like other girls. We do not know what the outcome of the present action will be, so we cannot tell what our plans will be. We will decide on our course of action after the case is closed."

Government Men Threatened.

Threatening communications have been received by Government officials who are working on the case in which it was declared that the Federal men are in danger unless they desist from their prosecution of Johnson. A postal to Bert J. Meyer, who has been investigating the case, warned him to leave the city.

The action of the City Council in passing resolutions denouncing Johnson and asking the Mayor to revoke his saloon license, is causing the big black to worry. The license expires in a week and it is said the brewery which owns it will turn it over to another man, having no business connection with Johnson.

Alderman Geiger introduced the resolution in the City Council meeting denouncing Johnson and calling on Mayor Mamison to use every power to revoke his saloon license. The resolution was adopted without opposition and action now is in the hands of the Mayor.

"Four-flush resolutions by the City Council are not good basis for official action," declared Mayor Harrison.

Mayor Harrison Waiting.

The Mayor intimated that he is waiting until the case against Johnson for failure to close his saloon is decided by the courts.

The Federal grand jury has adjourned till Monday morning. The government has decided to press the smuggling case against Johnson. He is charged with smuggling a pearl necklace which his former wife wore until the Government seized it. He is under indictment for this.

WHITE GIRLS FILL A NEGRO'S HOTEL

LIMA, O., Oct. 24.—Following the discovery of Anna Hill Strahm, the 17-year-old child-wife of Charles Strahm of Ada, O., in a resort kept by Fred Harrison, a wealthy negro politician and saloon keeper, Tuesday evening, Chief Vermilion headed a squad of policemen which went to the four saloons and hotels owned by Harrison.

At one saloon an 18-year-old white girl was in charge. At another, two young girls, both white, were at work in the rear of the place. The police claim to have found an opium den on the third floor of the negro's principal hotel, and a pretty young girl asleep there. Harrison is said to have a white wife running one of his bars.

Anna Hill Strahm was rescued from the negro's elaborately furnished hotel. According to her story, told to the police, she was drawn to the negro's den by a white slave agent who lavished her with finery and promised a life of gayety at the hotel if she would desert her husband, which she did. She had been missing a month.

Detectives were forced to break down a door before admittance to the girl's room was gained. She accompanied her husband back to Ada today, although she admitted being enamored of the negro.

Harrison, a giant in stature, 35 years of age, is being held under heavy bond. A charge of murdering his wife has been pending against him for several months.

'FATHER' WORRIES ABOUT 5 ORPHANS ON LOSING AN ARM

Brother, Who Is Also "Mother" to Children, Wonders How They Will Get Along.

Unmarried and yet "mother and father," as he expresses it, to five little children, George Christ grew very impatient when he was told at the city hospital Thursday morning that he would have to remain there a week.

He declared he was not so much worried over the amputation of an arm, but he wondered what "the kids, over in Macedonia" would do without him.

Christ, 27 years old, is an employe of the Hamilton-Brown Shoe Co. He was at work in the factory at Twenty-first and Olive streets Wednesday, when his left arm was caught in a belt. It was so badly injured that amputation was necessary.

He said his father and mother both died near Odessa, Russia, several years ago, leaving him to care for five brothers and sisters, the youngest 7 and the oldest 12. He came to this country and sends them most of his $60 a month, he said.

WOMAN SAYS WIFE AIDED RICH MAN IN AN ATTACK ON HER

Witness in Trial of Husband Declares Lewis Then Shot the Tolivers to Death.

By Associated Press.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Oct. 24.—Mrs. Hubert Lewis, whose husband is on trial here for the alleged murder of C. H. Toliver and his wife, Kate Toliver, declared on the witness stand that the killing of the Tolivers was the sequel to a criminal attack upon her in which Toliver had been aided by his wife.

Mrs. Lewis testified that when she related the circumstances to her husband, his rage deprived him temporarily of reason and, while in this condition, he sought out the Tolivers and shot both to death.

Half-fainting and weeping continuously, Mrs. Lewis broke down frequently during her recital. She said that nearly a year ago her husband had been sent to San Francisco on business by the Tolivers, who were wealthy. After his departure she was invited to the Toliver home one night, and was told by Mrs. Toliver that Lewis would never return to San Diego, and Mrs. Toliver, she said, advised her to forget him and seek consolation with another man.

When she indignantly resented the suggestion, she declared, Toliver suddenly stepped out of a closet and she was seized and overpowered by Toliver and his wife. She fainted, and when she revived, Mrs. Toliver was bathing her head, she said.

Mrs. Lewis told the jury that Mrs. Toliver confessed to her that she had participated in the assault because she feared her husband was about to leave her.

At the conclusion of the direct examination, Lewis broke away from his attorneys and rushed to the witness stand, where for some minutes he and his wife wept in each other's arms. The Court did not order the bailiffs to interfere.

A. J. & P. RAILROAD ENTERS JERSEYVILLE

Lays Rails in Spite of Expiration of Franchise and Invites Residents to Demonstration.

A public demonstration was made when workmen on the A. J. & P. Railroad laid the rails across the city limits to State street, at the intersection of Andrew avenue.

A megaphone procession through town announced the arrival of the interurban and invited everybody to the scene of activity to listen to speeches and have some cider and cigars.

Mayor Page was out of town consulting legal authorities, contending the franchise had expired. Jerseyville has been desirous of having the road, but wants it to pay its share of the street paving.

The Gadder Is on the Job

Travelers Don't Fear Strange Dishes—Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Enable the Stomach to Stand Anything.

A Box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Is Your Best Traveling Companion.

"Railroads tell you about the wonders of Nature along their lines; hotels describe their modern accommodations; but they never fail to ring in their 'cuisine unexcelled.' The wise traveler knows he is taking 'pot' luck when he leaves home, hence a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is quite as essential as many of the other traveling requisites."

Thus commented a philosophical traveling man, speaking of hotel life, restaurants, grills and junction lunch counters. "The agitations in this world," he continued, "are the result of one set of men trying to compel the other set to think and act against their own inclinations. It is the same in religion, politics, and eats. I have learned from experience to eat what they serve; to forget the food experts, read the current news and jokes and leave the stomach to the best expert in the world—Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets."

And Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets actually do the work assigned them. They relieve weak and overburdened stomachs of a great portion of digestive action. Their component parts assist the digestive fluids and secretions of the stomach and they simply take up the grind and carry on the work just the same as a good, strong, healthy stomach would do it.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are for sale by all druggists at 50 cents a box, and they are the one article that the druggist does not try to sell something in the place of it that's "just as good." Their unqualified merit and success and the universal demand for them has placed them within the reach of everyone.

DAMAGE CLAIMANT IS CONVICTED OF BIGAMY

D. L. Price to Ask for New Trial Following Jury's Verdict for Two-Year Term.

David L. Price was found guilty of bigamy Thursday and a jury in Judge Withrow's court fixed the penalty at two years in the penitentiary. The case had been on trial for two days and a sealed verdict was returned. Price filed notice of a motion for a new trial.

Testimony showed that Price married a Miss Stevens in Chicago and that without obtaining a divorce from her he married Bertha Alvord of Dangerfield, Tex. The bigamous marriage was revealed when Price was prosecuting a $50,000 damage suit against the United Railways Co., alleging that a motorman had beaten him.

His defense was that he obtained a divorce from his Chicago wife, but he failed to prove this to the satisfaction of the jury.

WOMAN SAYS GOOD AGENT DISAPPOINTS AS HUSBAND

Manufacturer of Washing Compound Asks Judge Who Tied Knot for Divorce.

Thomas Francis, 65 years old, was a rattling good distributing agent of the washing compound manufactured by the former Mrs. Mary J. Rawlings, 60, of 2270 South Jefferson avenue, but soon after he became the manufacturer's husband and business agent his services got so unsatisfactory, the bride says, that she has been driven to ask for divorce.

She appealed, Wednesday afternoon, to Justice Werremeyer, at Clayton, who performed the marriage ceremony for Francis and Mrs. Rawlings, July 31, last. She argued that since Werremeyer had bound her to an unsatisfactory companion, he should be able to release her. When Werremeyer, after half an hour's argument, convinced her that divorces were not in his line, she departed sorely disappointed.

Mrs. Francis told Werremeyer that her husband, 15 days after the wedding, tried to get her to transfer her bank account to him. He also began taking more than his share of profit from the sale of the washing compound, she said.

MAN AND WIFE, SLAYERS OF HER FATHER, FREED

Jury Finds Pair Insane and Asks Imprisonment—Wife Alleged Attack by Parent.

COLFAX, Wash., Oct. 24.—"Not guilty, by reason of insanity," was the verdict returned today by the jury in the case of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Brown, charged with the murder of Al Neeves, Mrs. Brown's father. "The jury figures that there is danger of a recurrence and it is dangerous for the parties to be at large," the verdict adds. Counsel for the defense filed objection to the verdict on the ground that it was unconstitutional. The case went to the jury last night.

Neeves was killed by Brown and his wife Sept. 15, at a ranch near here. Brown fired five bullets into his father-in-law's body and Mrs. Brown shot her father through the head as he lay on the floor. This was their testimony at the trial. Mrs. Brown swore that her father attacked her and instigated other men to do so. The Browns sued several of the men. They had been threatened and were convinced they could not get justice, so they killed Neeves.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—The Evening Post, in its copyrighted financial review today, says:

"Both in Europe and in New York today's movement on the Stock Exchange indicated that, for the time, at any rate, the pressure of liquidation had spent its force.

"Consols, it is true, were nearly ¼ point lower at London, and the English market seemed to be suffering from renewed though rather vague apprehension. But prices at Paris were rather firm, and the Berlin market steadied, in the face of the rise in the German Bank rate.

"That advance had, however, been manifestly foreshadowed by last week's marking up of official rates at London and Paris.

"As a matter of fact, the new rate fixed at Berlin today is no higher than that which prevailed at this date in each of the three past years; and German finance, which had been pointed out a month ago as the conspicuously weak spot, is justified in congratulating itself that the German Bank was the most deliberate of all the great European institutions in making any change.

Market Is Irregular.

"Here at New York, Stock Exchange prices opened virtually unchanged, and the arbitrage house bought moderately for London account. There was an early fractional advance; then an hour or two of dullness; then a fresh decline, which carried down prices of many active stocks a point or so.

"But this decline, which seemed to be a matter of professional 'bear pressure,' stopped as abruptly as it had begun, and a slow recovery ensued, up to the close.

"Underneath this irregularity of movement, there was plainly enough displayed the existence of a substantial 'short interest' and of a disposition among other interests to buy stocks on concessions. Very possibly, more will be heard from both quarters in the near future.

"It is a very unusual situation, which is presented here, of investment securities broken far below their recent level, and wholly because of conditions prevalent on foreign markets, at a time when news concerning the fundamentals of American prosperity is better than any one would have ventured to predict, a month or two ago.

Money Is Higher.

"It was only in the last half hour that call money advanced to 6 per cent. After rising nearly ¼ cent at the opening of the news of the higher German bank rate the foreign exchange market reacted, closing near the level of yesterday.

"That market was governed again by the unusual requirements incident to the paying for securities arriving from Europe. These engagements were heavy and it was evident that some important financial operations would be undertaken in connection with next week's London Stock Exchange settlement.

"The banks here suffered a further loss of cash to the interior, and withdrawals through the sub-treasury enlarged the net outgo since Friday to $9,000,000.

"In other words the net payments by Wall street banks to the subtreasury for the account of interior correspondents just about equals the actual surplus reported by all clearing house institutions last Saturday.

"Such large remittances to out-of-town markets, which are unusual so late in the crop season, are due in part to the extraordinary loan account which the interior banks have created in this city.

"Those lenders are now experiencing a much broader demand for money at home and, with the increased demand from mercantile borrowers, it is natural for the interior banks to call loans here and otherwise draw heavily against their New York balances."

New York Money.

*Increase.

Trading was very quiet at the early session of the Stock Exchange Thursday, only a few issues being brought into the active list. The price range was irregular on the stocks quoted.

United Railways preferred was unchanged on bids at $41.50 and offers at $42. The common stock was easier on offers at $12.75 and bids at $11.25. The bonds of the company were ¼ point higher on sales at $75.25 and $75.37½.

No sales were recorded in the bank and trust list. National Bank of Commerce was about steady on offers at $154 and best bids at $153. Title Trust was unchanged on offers at $75 and no bids. Other issues in this class showed only small price changes. The bond and miscellaneous lists were neglected.

Trading was light during the rest of the afternoon and the market closed steady.

United Railways preferred sold at $41.50 at the second session, the 4s at $75.37½ and National Bank of Commerce at $154. Other issues were steady.

Local Money Market.

Certain financial transactions to be closed in St. Louis within the ensuing 60 days may temporarily hold up interest rates, but it is the quite general belief that the market will have passed its apex in the next 30 days. The inquiry from certain sections of the southwest has already begun to slacken somewhat, an unusual feature at this time of year. Quotations are 5½ to 6 per cent on all classes of paper accepted at the present time by St. Louis banks and trust companies. Some outside commercial bills were taken during the day at 6½ per cent.

American Stocks Are Irregular on the London Market.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—American securities opened irregular today. Then prices sagged, but most of the list firmed up on covering before the end of the first hour. COTTON MARKET STEADY AT A SMALL ADVANCE

Shorts Are the Best Buyers in New York Market.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—The cotton market opened steady at an advance of 1 to 6 points on ever night buying orders, scattered covering and renewed trade support. The market worked up to a net advance of about 6 points during the early trading.

Realizing by recent buyers for a turn and Wall street selling checked the advance around this level and slight reaction occurred, but the undertone was steady and prices held within 2 or 3 points of the best during the middle of the morning.

The market continued quiet during the early afternoon, but ruled generally steady to firm, with the active months selling into new high ground for the movement, or about 8 to 10 points net higher on reports of a good spot demand and further covering. The close was firm. Spot cotton closed steady; middling uplands, 11.05c; middling gulf, 11.30c. Sales, 1500 bales.

IRON TRADE ACTIVE

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 24.—The Iron Trade Review today says:

Contracting for several lines of finished iron and steel products is beginning to fall off slightly. This feature, however, does not indicate an unhealthful condition of the trade. Consumers realize the impossibility of obtaining some material before the second quarter of next year and are attempting to place tonnages for that reason. Mills would welcome even greater inactivity so far as future contracting is concerned. Specifications against contracts continue heavy and manufacturers are being pressed for deliveries. The car shortage is more acute and complaint continues to be heard about the scarcity of labor.

Consumers of semi-finished steel who have not covered requirements for first quarter are confronting a serious situation. It is not probable that any of the large producers will be able to offer much surplus tonnage. Effort is being made to prevent prices of billets, sheet and tin bars advancing to such an extent that finished products would have to be quoted on a higher basis.

The scarcity and high price of coke have caused considerable anxiety on the part of consumers. Producers are unable to meet the heavy demand, and extremely fancy prices are being paid for both prompt and contract fuel.

The proportion of the bank's reserve to liability this week is 49.53 per cent; last week it was 48.73 per cent.

With cables sharply lower and foreign stock markets steady on less anxiety over the political outlook, wheat traders sold futures down about one cent a bushel Thursday. Prices also were influenced by heavy receipts in the northwest, the three primary markets there getting 1735 cars of wheat against 1510 last year and only 368 two years ago and Minneapolis wheat stocks increasing 1,075,000 bu for 5 days. The weather map also showed ideal conditions for the market movement of wheat.

The Liverpool wheat market opened unchanged to ⅝d higher, partially reflecting the advance in America yesterday and the easier opening of Consols this morning was followed by a steadier feeling in financial circles, offsetting other influences. Later there was heavy realizing and prices declined ⅛d to 1d with prominent selling due to the large acceptance to over-night bids of both American and Canadian wheat. The forecast is for larger arrivals and these together with pronounced weakness on the Continent and continued favorable reports from Argentine caused large offers.

Liverpool corn opened ⅛d lower and further declined ⅜d to ½d with the undertone easy. The forecast is for heavy Argentine shipments this week, easiness in spots and a very small inquiry for cargoes.

Liverpool wheat futures closed ¼d to ⅞d lower; corn ½d to ⅝d lower. Budapest 1c lower, Antwerp ⅝c up. Paris wheat ¼c lower to ½c up and flour 1c lower to ¼c up.

Minneapolis wired: "Cash demand good, with tone steady. No. 1 northern blue stem, ½c to 1c over December, and velvet chaff ½c to 1 under December. Reports of flour sales show small volume of new business originating at present, but mills are all busy on old orders."

Minneapolis wheat receipts were 489, last week 632, last year 568. Duluth had 486, last week 663, last year 175. Winnipeg had 760, last week 103?, last year 817.

Local wheat receipts were 169,200 bu, or 114 cars local, 27 through; last year 58,413 bu, or 539 sacks, 50 cars local, 2 through; last year 23,400 bu or 12 cars local, 5 through; last year 48,000 bu, or 36 cars local, 4 through. Oats receipts 107,100 bu, or 44 cars local, 19 through; last year 30,600 bu, or 16 cars local, 2 through.

Argentine estimated shipments this week: Wheat 560,000 bu, corn 6,800,000 bu.

Broomhall cables: "The new wheat crop in Argentine is making good progress and shows a good healthy plant."

New York reported 25 loads of wheat taken for export.

Chicago wheat cars were 69, corn 127, oats 380. Estimated Friday: Wheat 32, corn 135, oats 332.

Total clearances: Wheat 36,000 bu, flour 16,000 bbls, corn 2000 bu, oats 339,000 bu; wheat and flour 108,000.

Corn was quiet and easier along with wheat. Cables were bearish, the cash demand only fair and the movement of the new crop close at hand. Oats were easy in sympathy.

The Jarr Family

By Roy L. McCardell

Mr. Jarr gets himself in Dutch by talking about "pasts."

"DON'T do anything rash!" counseled Mr. Jarr, as the indignant Clara Mudridge-Smith arose to depart.

"My husband is a deceiver! The scales have fallen from my eyes!" answered the fair young matron, making a gesture to indicate they were no Troy or lightweight scales that had fallen from her optics, but rather regular hay or coal scales; and she looked as though surprised they hadn't made considerable tumult in dropping.

"Now, Clara, be calm!" advised Mrs. Jarr, "although I'd do the very same if I were you!"

"Wait a minute! Maybe all this can be explained!" suggested Mr. Jack Silver.

"Yes, my dear, it can all be explained," mumbled the elderly husband nervously endeavoring to train his whiskers from standing to windward, the peculiarity that had been evidence against him.

"Oh, I'm sorry if I made any trouble!" spoke up La Superba, the Firefly Venus. When I called here because I thought you were coming between me and Mr. Silver I didn't want to get your poor old man in Dutch, you know. After all," she added, turning to the discomfited Mr. Smith, "you were a good old sport them days, Billy, and I wouldn't want to see your bride blow you and leave you flat for what you did with a good heart 10 years ago! But you shouldn't have tried to contradict a lady. I had the goods on you. And you know your whiskers grew sideways from pushing them to the left to get at the money in your upper vest pocket when our troupers touched you the two months you backed our show."

"Yes, it's all been a mistake. We are all friends. No harm has been done," Mr. Jarr went on. "And, besides, Mrs. Smith, admitting all that this lady has said about your husband to be true, there is nothing in what she says to show him anything but a friend to beauty in distress."

"SHE a beauty?" asked Mrs. Mudridge-Smith scornfully.

And for a moment it looked as though hostilities would be renewed.

"Besides," Mr. Jarr continued, when the tumult had stilled again, "Mr. Smith wasn't married ten years ago."

"That doesn't matter. It is still an insult to me!" cried Mrs. Mudridge-Smith, "but oh, I'm glad I found it out before it was too late!"

Mr. Jarr didn't attempt to argue this statement with her but as the rest were leaving the awkward situation to be arranged satisfactorily by the tact which many years of married life had inculcated in him, and which a post-graduate course in diplomacy settling disputes in Gus's place had augmented, he playfully tapped Mrs. Mudridge-Smith on the shoulder, and said:

"You shouldn't be hard on your husband for simply being kind hearted to others long before he met you."

"What right had he to squander his money on a burlesque show? He might have realized that some day he would marry me. Every cent he gave those people was cheating me. He should have saved all his money for ME to spend!"

"That is the first duty of man," said Mr. Jarr, "but you must not take the matter so seriously. Even if you went to your lawyers they could do nothing about the matter. You certainly could not get a divorce for an innocent thing like that, especially when it occurred at least eight years before your husband met you."

"But I could sue him for the money. Even the money he had ten years ago would rightfully be mine if he hadn't spent it!" replied the indignant young matron.

"What good would that do? If you take any money from your husband now you are only taking what you'd get anyhow, and have lawyers to pay besides," said Mr. Jaar soothingly.

The force of this logic appealed to all the ladies, even to the injured matron.

"But I'll never forgive him! It's disgraceful!"

"Come now," said Mr. Jarr, soothingly. "Let bygones be bygones. Everybody has a past. There isn't one of us here who would wish even the most innocent indiscretions of earlier years raked up and spread broadcast."

"Dearies, that's the right dope!" said the good-natured and now mollified vaudeville star. "Maybe I've been married and maybe I've been divorced. Maybe my Mawr is a fiend for taking headache powders and creating scenes. But I don't want them things to come up now, do I?"

"By George, you are right!" said Mr. Jack Silver. "Everybody HAS a past!"

"Yes, even silly things we did in girlhood we would not care to have discussed," said Mrs. Jarr. "Your husband is sorry, Clara. Forgive him!"

"I can forgive, but I can never forget!" said the young matron.

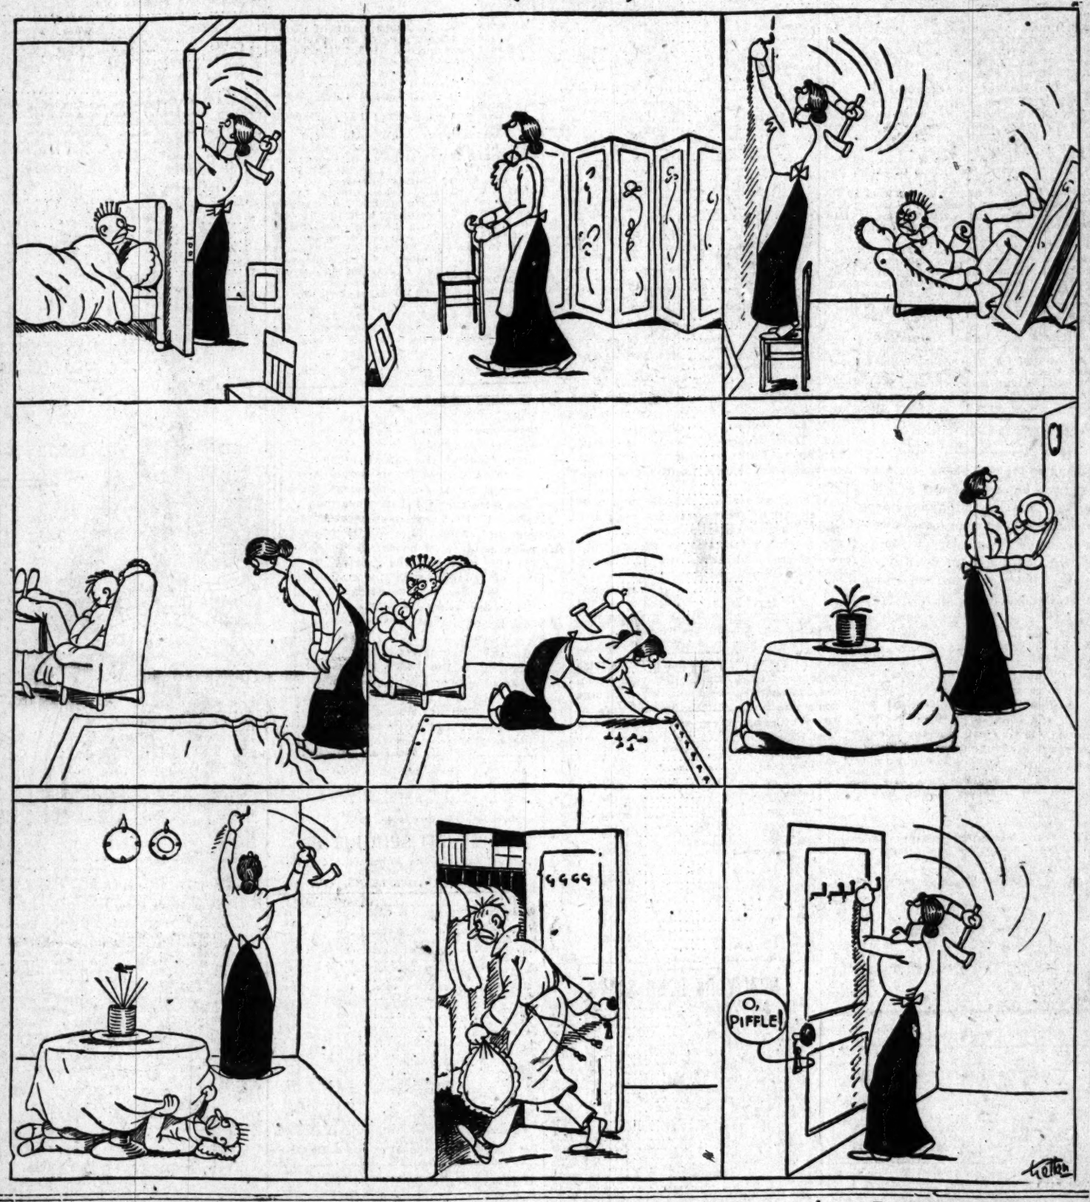

But she suffered her crestfallen husband to lead her away. And the dashing bachelor and the Firefly Venus went with them.

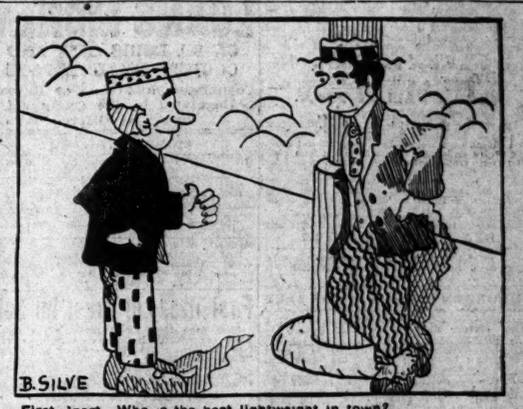

"And now, Mr. Jarr!" said Mrs. Jarr firmly as the door closed, "WHAT WAS YOUR PAST?"

A DAY OF UNREST

The Young Idea.

A KEEN-EYED, but obviously scantily educated mountaineer led his gawky, over-grown son into a country schoolhouse.

"This here boy's arter learnin'," he announced. "What's yer bill o' fare?"

"Our curriculum, sir," corrected the schoolmaster, "embraces geography, physiology, arithmetic, algebra, trigonometry"——

"That'll do," interrupted the father. "That'll do. Load him up heavily with triggernometry. He's the only poor shot in the family."—Youth's Companion.

Just Luck.

"TOMMY," said his brother, you're a regular little glutton. How can you eat so much?"

"Don't know. It's just good luck," replied the youngster.—Christian Intelligencer.

A Long-Felt Want.

MAN (entering store): A card in your window says: "Boy wanted over 16 years."

Proprietor: Yes, sir; have you one?

Man: No. I just dropped in to ask you if you weren't discouraged, that's all.—Boston Transcript.

STOMACH SICK, SOUR, UPSET AND FULL OF GAS?—TRY PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN.

Wonder what upset your stomach—which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; your head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Diapepsin and in five minutes you will wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps the stomach regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapepsin, which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is astonishing. Please don't go on and on with a weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary. ADV.

"But, my dear madam, you told me this room would be $4 a week, and now you charge me $5."

"Ah, yes, but that was before I knew who you were. I just couldn't bear to tell people that Theocritus Boob, the famous poet, paid only $4 for his room."

Dead or Alive.

TWO Irishmen were working on the roof of a building one day when one made a misstep and fell to the ground. The other leaned over and called: "Are yez dead or alive, Mike?"

"Oi'm alive," said Mike, feebly.

"Sure you're such a liar. Oi don't know whether to belave yez or not.

"Well, then, Oi must be dead," said Mike, "for yez would never dare co call me a liar if Il wor aloive."—Philadelphia Record.

It Didn't Matter.

"WHAT are you doing, dear?" asked the little girl's mother, as she paused to look at some very strange marks the child was making on a piece of paper.

"I'm writing a letter to Lillie Smith," was the answer.

"But, my dear," laughed the mother, "you don't know how to write."

"CASCARETS WORK WHILE YOU SLEEP."

"Your little brother's in the hall,"
He muttered, "we must stop."
"Oh, no," she answered, "not at all,
He's looking out for pop."

A Remarkable Man.

"MY daughter allus said she wouldn't marry any ordinary man," said Farmer Corntossel.

"Well there ain't anything extraordinary about the feller she got," complimented his neighbor.

"That's where you're wrong. He's the most brilliant and accomplished work-dodger in the entire county."—Washington Star.

Barbarous Tale.

JOHN DREW has very fine and silky brown hair. It looks a little thin when it is uncombed.

As the barber laid his moist, cool palm on the actor's skull he said:

"You are somewhat bald, sir. Have you tried our special tonic?"

"Yes," returned Mr. Drew. "But that wasn't what made my hair fall out."
